MERCER'S HOSPITAL.

FOUNDED 1734.

SPECIAL APPEAL FOR £6,000.

PLEASE HELP TO RAISE THIS SUM.

The Governors, though faced with an overdraft of £2,000, have been obliged to expend in the last few months a sum of £3,000 on the re-construction of their X-Ray equipment, and installation of a modern system of Heating. This expenditure was imperative if the Hospital was to retain its unbroken tradition, by providing the most modern appliances in both medicine and surgery, for the relief of its poorest patient.

The Hospital is mainly dependent on subscriptions and donations from the charitable public, and a grant from the Government which never exceeds £40 per annum.

It has kept an open door to the suffering poor for 190 years.

Please help to continue this work by sending a special donation towards raising £6,000.

Cheques may be sent to the Hon. Treasurer of the Special Appeal Fund, E. D. PENTLAND, Mercer's Hospital, Dublin; or to Major E. MANDERS, Killiney House, Killiney.

GOSSIP FROM THE COURSE.

CONQUISTADOR COLLAPSES.

THE DERBY RIDDLE.

PTOLEMY II. IN FRENCH GUINEAS TO-MORROW.

SMIRKE'S FORTY-FIVE LOSERS.

FROM OUR TRAVELLING CORRESPONDENT.

LONDON, Friday Night.

The apparently inconceivable keeps on happening over our Derby candidates. We came back from Gatwick this evening to find that Lord Derby's Conquistador had been beaten at Haydock Park in a field of three runners. He finished two lengths and a length and a half behind Horace—an absolutely unknown colt by Russley, who had run inconspicuously on three occasions last year—and Hurrybelle, a four year old, who barely gets a mile. Odds of 100 to 8 had been laid on Conquistador, while 33 to 1 was offered—only offered, I am sure—against the winner. It appears that after Weston had made the running for three furlongs or so on Conquistador he allowed Horace to lead him, and then moved up entering the straight. Conquistador seemingly could not stand the pressure, and when Weston saw that he could make no impression on the leader he did not persevere with the colt, who blew a good deal when he returned to the paddock. This is even worse at first sight than the defeat of St. Becan by Zambo in the Payne Stakes, for Zambo, after all, has pretensions to class, while Horace has never shown a vestige of form. It is all mystifying, and, having said that, one must really leave it.

All interest now centres in what the French Derby candidate, Ptolemy II., will do to-morrow when he makes his first appearance of the season in the French Guineas. No matter what jockey rides him—and the Paris messages to-night suggest that there are certain difficulties between Donoghue and the owner, who wants the same jockey up at Longchamps and at Epsom—he is expected to win. Denman, his trainer, is far too experienced a man to regard his geese as swans, and he does believe that in Ptolemy II. he has a good colt. He expects him to do well to-morrow, and to do well also in the Derby. The way at Epsom certainly seems to be clearing for him; for of the leading Derby candidates we have now only Cross Bow and Manna not overshadowed by a momentary cloud.

Bright racing that was not very important took place at Gatwick to-day. In the Alexandra Three-Year-Old Handicap, Mum Ruffin, who started favourite, made a gallant attempt to carry 14lbs. penalty, but he was beaten by two short heads by Chinese and Done Up. The latter, a son of Lomond and Painted Lady, trained by Wootton for Mr. T. B. Bennett, ran an excellent race.

A Run of Bad Luck.

Hussein, whom Willie Waugh now trains for Lady Penrhyn, started favourite for the Home-Bred Cup, and, ridden by Donoghue, he scored cleverly from Invershin by a length, Son o' Spring being beaten into third place by three lengths. The unlucky jockey of this year has been Smirke, who up to this afternoon had ridden forty-five consecutive losers. He changed the luck, however, when he won the Worth Plate on the 10 to 1 chance, Rosula, a good-looking son of Gainsborough and Roya, whom Dawson Waugh trains for Sir Edward Hulton, and who beat the favourite, the Carlean filly, easily by two lengths.

There is again racing both at Gatwick and Haydock Park to-morrow afternoon. The Prince's Handicap is the principal event at the former meeting. CARBONARO has arrived to run, and the class is not quite so good as that which he has been accustomed to meet. He carries top weight, but the firm going will be in his favour, and I expect him to win. If MURILLO is sent for the Marlborough Stakes he may win. In his absence I would rely on JUG O' RUM. The WILLOW PALM gelding may win the Home-Bred Two-Year-Old Plate. SEBASTIAN has missed the Prince's Handicap, and goes to run for the Haydock Park Handicap, which he should win from Blanchefleur. AWNING may win the Grand Stand Three-Year-Old Handicap, and HEATHER WINE the Scurry T.Y.O. Plate at the Lancashire Meeting.

POWERSTOWN PARK.

A COUNTRY STABLE'S DOUBLE.

ELGAR WINS IN EASY STYLE.

The opening meeting of the season at Powerstown Park was attended with considerable success, for, as well as providing some excellent sport, the attendance was of satisfactory dimensions, and the weather, an all-important matter nowadays, was on its best behaviour. It was certainly a pleasant experience for regular racegoers to have attended four meetings in the one week, and to have escaped a wetting at all. Powerstown Park on a fine day is one of the pleasantest of places for an afternoon's racing, the course being set amidst charming surroundings, and yesterday the countryside, garbed in its spring clothing, looked its very best.

Trim Gate, hitherto a none too reliable horse, was caught in a generous mood when, in the hands of E. M. Quirke, he won the May Hurdle Race from five others. He and Ballygibby were fighting out the issue strongly when a swerve by Ballygibby brought them together at the last hurdle and Trim Gate momentarily was thrown out of his stride. Quirke, however, wisely persevering with his mount, soon got him on terms with the other again, and ultimately won with a bit in hand from Carrig Long, who drew past Ballygibby in the last couple of strides.

Though seven horses were weighed out for the Maiden Steeplechase, only three completed the course. Molly's Second, the property of Mr. W. O'Driscoll, and trained by E. Houlihan at Croom, had the misfortune to meet with fatal injuries through falling at the preliminary jump, and was destroyed. Of the others, Brown Jug, Felix M., and Dainty Lass in turn tumbled over during the race, and Slieve Rue, who appeared to have the race won as they raced down the hill to the straight, jeopardised his chance by running wide at the turn, and Mrs. Jiggs, ridden by K. Lenehan, overhauling him in the run home snatched a rather lucky win.

The Limerick winner, Buacaill Breah, had to shoulder a 10lb. penalty in the Curragh Plate, but this did not deter backers from accepting a very short price about his chance. He was not too well placed in the closing stages and never looked like getting on terms with Princess Theresa. The latter, ridden by J. Lenehan, was one of the quickest away from the barrier, and held the lead practically for the entire journey, to finally stall off the challenges of Simon Orb and Buacaill Breah. Mrs. V. Morton Jackson's good horse, Elgar, had not very strong opposition for the Commons Steeplechase, which he won in very easy style from Drifting Prince: and Jack Frost, ridden by his owner, Mr. W. Kennedy, won the Foxhunters' Flat Race in smart style.

Land of Sun and Winborne, the two best fancied candidates for the Southern Steeplechase, came to grief, the former at the first fence and Winborne half a mile from home, and with these two out of the way the race fell an easy prey to Solus, who thus completed a double event for the Shinrone stable, managed by Mr. Wallace, and also for K. Lenehan, who had not been able to do much riding since being injured through the falling of Duleek at Liverpool. Details:—

HAYDOCK PARK

HORACE BEATS CONQUISTADOR.

EASY VICTORY OF BLANC MANGE.

Favoured by weather more in keeping with the season of the year than we have experienced for some time, the opening stage of the Haydock Park Meeting yesterday drew a very large crowd, a view of the Stanley House Derby representative, Conquistador, in the Copeland Sweepstakes being an additional attraction. Apart from this treat, the programme was quite attractive; all through there was a fair average of runners, and the going could not have been better. Making his first appearance, the Bonze filly won the Trial Selling Plate cleverly, the favourite, Confucius, only being able to dead-heat for third place. Cecil Rhodes, who recently had his licence restored to him, rode the winner, shaping very well.

The chief event of the day fell to the Aga Khan through the agency of Blanc Mange, who, depriving Winker of the lead at half way, scored very easily by six lengths. When the betting opened there was quite a furore for Ventose, but Mr. Purefoy's filly weakened in face of the backing of Winker and Blanc Mange.

Paint Box's victory in the Earlstown Handicap was something in the nature of a surprise, for there was no money for her, whereas there seemed to be a great deal for Little Traitress, who, however, cut up moderately.

The sensation of the day came in the final event, Conquistador being beaten by Horace and Hurrybelle. The colt is obviously not yet fit, but in any case it is unlikely that he will stay the mile and a half at Epsom. Weston gave him a good three furlongs stretch to begin with, and then eased him behind Horace until well in the straight, when he asked him for his effort. He could not maintain it, however, and realising the position Weston sat up, and the other two finished in front of him. Conquistador was blowing considerably after the race, and when his saddle was removed it was seen that he was sweating freely. In other respects he showed signs of lack of stamina, and it is hardly conceivable that he will stay the Derby course at the pace certain to obtain at Epsom.

TO-DAY'S SELECTIONS.

For the concluding day at Haydock Park the chief item is the Haydock Park Handicap. Haine seems to have just a little too much weight to carry successfully, but he will, no doubt, run well. Sir Greysteel seems to have lost form, but Miss Connie has improved, if anything. Gabrielle has come on from Uttoxeter, where she won a hurdle race, and is held to have a chance. My choice for the race, however, is Sebastian, who was never better than he is now, and who will carry the full confidence of A. Taylor. He ran well in the Chester Cup, and should do even better over the shorter distance here. Conquistador will not be given another outing at Haydock Park. Heather Wine appears good for the Scurry Plate, and I hear that Alliteration is much fancied by his connections for the White Lodge Selling Handicap. Selections:—
Scurry Plate—Heather Wine.
White Lodge Handicap—Alliteration.
Haydock Park Handicap—Sebastian (nap).
Juvenile Selling—Glensan.
Grand Stand Handicap—Awning.
Club Plate—Starosta.

TO-DAY'S SELECTIONS.

For the chief event at Gatwick to-day, the Prince's Handicap, Carbonaro might be fancied were it not that he seems to be a horse of one pace only. Sebastian and Vaudricourt have gone to Haydock Park. Right Ho is exceedingly well treated on his best form of last year. He will have the assistance of Donoghue, and is very much fancied to win. So is Vaddy, Newmarket opinion being divided as to the chances of this pair. Cock of the Walk might create a surprise, but I anticipate the success of Right Ho. The Facility colt, with V. Smyth up, should not have much difficulty in winning the Rook Selling Plate. The opposition to Happy Elf in the Home-Bred Plate appears strong, as among the runners will be Miss Sainfoin gelding, Willow Palm gelding, and the well-tried Vale colt. Knowing, however, that Happy Elf is one of Hogg's best two-year-olds, I have no hesitation in taking him to represent me. Selections:—
Mayblossom Plate—Miss Volta.
Rook Plate—Facility colt.
Home-Bred Plate—Happy Elf (nap).
Prince's Handicap—Right Ho.
Marlborough Stakes—Jug o' Rum.
Maiden Stakes—Chinkapin.

LADIES' INTERNATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP.

ENGLAND'S STRONG POSITION.

Yesterday at Troon England laid the foundation of another easy victory by overwhelming Scotland and Ireland. The matches were nine a side, and of the eighteen individual contests played by the English representatives only one was lost. Scotland and Ireland went down to England, and it is almost inevitable that Wales will suffer the same fate to-day, when the international contest concludes.

The present position is:—England, played two, won two; Scotland, played two, won one; Ireland, played two, won one; Wales, played two, won none.

All four countries were led by their respective captains, the Champion, Miss Wethered, playing first for England. In view of the fact that the Ladies' Championship is to be decided at Troon next week, there was considerable interest in Miss Wethered's play. She played well enough to easily beat both her opponents, and to justify the expectation that she will retain the title. But she was putting poorly. Miss Cecil Leitch, the English second string, was also in form, and very easily accounted for her opponents. She did not lose a hole against Miss Kyle, and only three of them were halved. Miss Cox, the Welsh captain, occasioned surprise by beating the Irish leader, Miss Janet Jackson, but the latter putted atrociously, and this undoubtedly cost her the match. To-day England meets Wales and Scotland plays Ireland.

YACHTING.

TO-DAY'S FIXTURES.

R.A.Y.C.—Opening match, 25-footers.
W.W.C.—Third match (handicap). First gun at 3.30 p.m.

ROYAL ALFRED YACHT CLUB.

The new starting line—from end of the Carlisle Pier to the 2nd hauling buoy from Victoria Wharf—will have its first trial to-day in the 25-footers matches, in which Fodhla, Punctilio, and Aiana will start. Equally so will The new finishing line, to the west of the R.I.Y.C. clubhouse, be tested, and it will be interesting to watch how the plan succeeds. Any way, it is heartening to see the 25-Footer Class on its legs again. In this match Mr. H. J. Brown makes his debut in the class with Aiana, a boat which, in the hands of her previous owner, Mr. A. H. Seale, used to take a lot of beating. Fodhla also has not raced for a season or two.

THE WATER WAGS.

To-day's match for Water Wags will be the first tie for the Commemoration Trophy. Club prizes also will be sailed for, but on a handicap, in which Mollie, Coquette, and Phyllis are equal on scratch, and allow Vela 2 mins; Wendy, Pansy, Barbara, 3 mins. each; Tomboy III., Blue Bird, and Moosmie, 4 mins. each.

DUBLIN BAY SAILING CLUB.

One striking feature of this season's programme—which will be issued to members in a day or two—is the fact that the 17-footers take shape as a live class of the club on it, with a strength of half-a-dozen boats. At the recent general meeting the then apparent weakness of the "Seventeens" made the club merge the possible one or two boats that promised to fit one, and race into the small cruiser division. Now the prospects of the class are very much brighter, and justify the committee giving the 17-footers a new lease of sailing life as a separate unit.

MOTOR CYCLING

RACING IN PHŒNIX PARK.

The Commissioners of Public Works have granted permission to the Army Motor Cycle Club to hold a series of speed trials in the Phœnix Park this season. No date has yet been arranged for the meeting, as all of the available Saturdays have already been allocated, but the club hopes to arrange with one of the Dublin clubs to give them one of their dates. If this is impossible the meeting will probably take place on a Wednesday in August. The intention of the Army M.C.C. is to hold a series of races on the lines of the meeting held in conjunction with the Tailteann Games last year.

NATIONAL ATHLETIC AND CYCLING ASSOCIATION.

The second annual Congress of the National Athletic and Cycling Association of Ireland will be held to-morrow in Jury's Hotel, Dublin, at 12 noon. The agenda is as follows:—

1. Minutes of last Congress. 2. Secretary's report. 3. Auditor's report, hon. treasurer's statement of accounts and balance sheet. 4. Election of officers, hon. president, hon. treasurer, secretary. Nominations, hon. president, J. J. Keane; hon. treasurer M. Keogh; Secretary, Tomas O hAonghusa. 5. Motions by Dublin, Belfast, and Cork County Boards for change of rules. 6. Resolution from Dublin County Board that a committee be appointed to revise the rules of the Association and have them issued inside three months.

The effect of the Belfast motions if carried would be to alter the Constitution of the Association so as to abolish the County Board system and transfer the duties of County Boards to Provincial Councils, to whom also would be transferred the issuing of handicappers' licences and sports permits—duties hitherto performed by the Central Council. The Belfast County Board also propose to abolish the rule prohibiting betting and gambling at sports meetings.

The Dublin Board proposes to give each affiliated club individual representation at Congress instead of the present representation of one delegate for every four clubs affiliated or portion of four over two in a county. This Board also proposes to extend the handicap limits in the 100, 220, 440, 880 and 1,760 yards flat.

The Cork County Board proposes the deletion of the rule that the Chairman and Secretary of all Boards must not hold office for more than two years.

OXFORD OPEN WELL.

STEADY BATTING BY J. W. H. T. DOUGLAS.

There were many tense moments at Brighton yesterday before the Essex side achieved a splendid victory, thanks to the wonderful patience of John Douglas and the enterprise of Hipkin, by two wickets. Overnight Douglas and Grimwood had increased the score by 19 runs, and when Tate eventually effected a separation, Cox bringing off a fine catch in the slips, the partnership had produced 45, as the result of an hour and forty minutes batting. Grimwood played like a veteran, although at times he was beaten by Tate. Cutmore left at 115, playing a ball from Tate hard on to the wicket, but Hipkin offered unexpected resistance, and assisted the captain to increase the total by 25 before Douglas's remarkable innings came to an end. During a stay of three hours and twenty-five minutes Douglas only once made the semblance of a bad stroke, Cox missing a difficult chance in the slips at 17. Seldom has the Essex captain's patience and Stubborn defence been so much in evidence. All hope seemed to have gone when Douglas left, but Hipkin suddenly became a vigorous hitter, and four boundaries in ten minutes brought Essex to within 5 of the necessary total. A lucky single by Louden and 3 by Hipkin made the game a tie, and then Louden glanced Tate to leg for a single.

Oxford University won their first victory of the season yesterday, beating Leicestershire by 102 runs. They secured an advantage on the first day and never lost it, despite several missed chances at a critical period of the game yesterday, and won in most convincing style. The last day's play was entered upon with Leicester requiring 221 runs to win, with all wickets in hand. Fowke and Lord, by very painstaking cricket, put on 38 before Fowke was bowled, and Lord, who was missed at 6 and 11, was sent back two runs later. Two other wickets fell before lunch, when the score was 83 for four. Astill, who went in at the fall of the third wicket, batted extremely well for some time, hitting five 4's, but with his dismissal the end came quickly. Two other chances were missed by Oxford fieldsmen, despite which Guise, Greenstock, and Holmes all returned excellent bowling figures. Greenstock, a left-hander, looks like being quite an acquisition.

SHORTHORNS.

PROPAGANDA IN IRELAND AND GREAT BRITAIN.

It was decided by the Irish Shorthorn Breeders' Association at the annual meeting (when Captain Clarke was elected Vice-President in succession to Mr. W. J. Gray, who is the new President) that in future only one of the prizes offered by the Association would be awarded to the same animal in any year.

The date of the autumn sale of females and calves was provisionally fixed for Thursday, 1st October next, at 50 Prussia street, Dublin.

Mr. J. H. Seymour, Secretary of the Shorthorn Breeders' Association of Great Britain and Ireland, having explained the details of the proposed shorthorn propaganda, it was decided that the Irish Association should co-operate in the movement.

An adjourned meeting of the Association will be held at Belfast on 28th inst., the first day of the Royal Ulster Agricultural Society's Show.

The following were elected to fill vacancies on the Committee caused by the retirement of members elected in 1920:—Sir Gilbert Greenall, Bart.; R. D. Best, J. S. Gordon, Dr. Edward Tierney, F. N. Greene, and Major Perceval.

THE CORK SHOW.

The Executive Committee of the Irish Dairy Shorthorn Breeders' Society yesterday made arrangements for the show and sale to be held in Cork on 23rd September next. Messrs. Senator MacLysaght, T. O'Sullivan, W. O'Callaghan, F. N. Greene, and the Hon. Secretary were appointed a sub-Committee to draw up a schedule of prizes and to make arrangements for advertising the sale.

The Chairman (Mr. N. Fitzgerald) dealt with the inadequate facilities at present available for the shipment of store cattle. Until these materially improved, he said, the farmers would continue to lose thousands of pounds annually.

BUTTER-MAKING COMPETITION.

The Butter-making Competition proved of great interest, and a large crowd watched the performance. In the competition open to pupils trained at classes organised by any Committee of Agriculture in Ireland or any of the Rural Domestic Economy Schools, pupils from the Munster Institute and the Ulster Dairy School, and prize-winners in previous butter-making competitions were ineligible to compete. There were thirteen competitors, and the first prize went to Miss Angela Clavin, Rural Domestic Economy School, Portumna. The judge (Miss D. V. Dearden) said that the performance was very good indeed for novices, and that the mistakes made were due to inexperience of show work.

SOME HINTS FOR POULTRY KEEPERS.

Mr. Tom Barron, one of the judges, speaking at a meeting of poultry-keepers, in the Show Yard, expressed the belief that the conditions for poultry were splendid. Organisation was needed and lectures and debates on poultry-keeping promoted. By judicious culling, he said, birds could be made profitable. They should aim at a high yield of eggs that were little over two ounces in weight.

Mr. W. Hammett, another judge, emphasised the necessity for culling, and stated that 33 per cent. of the birds in a flock were "duds," and merely consumed food without giving any return.

IRISH LACE AND CROCHET.

Mrs. Lucy Gordon, of 44 Mary street, Dublin, shows a very fine collection of Irish crochet silk dresses and embroidered linens. Some very beautiful specimens of Carrickmacross and Limerick lace work are on view, which include embroidered tablecloths and dinner sets of very artistic and charming design.

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS, ETC.

The well-known firm of Messrs. Thomas McKenzie and Sons, Ltd., 212 Great Brunswick street, Dublin, have an excellent exhibition of hay-making machinery, manure distributors, thistle cutters, root cutters, chaff cutters, and a selection of the most modern labour-saving appliances for agriculturists. They have also displayed garden tents, garden requisites, cookers, and cooking utensils.

PAINTS AND ENAMELS.

The "Eblana" preparation of paints in all shades, spirit varnishes, and floor polish are a strong feature on the stand of Messrs. Boileau and Boyd, Ltd., 46 Mary street, and St. Bride's Mills, Dublin. Also on this stall are shown such well-known lines as the "Harpie" products, Johnson and Son's wood finishes. Those who tend poultry find here Roupinaline, which cures gapes or "pip" in chickens. Solansalvo also to prevent potato blight.

JUMPING COMPETITIONS.

THE STONE WALL.

The stand was not as well filled yesterday as on the first day of the jumping competitions, but the attendance in the general enclosure was quite as large, and the progress of the two events was followed with the keenest interest.

Sweet Gipsy, having won Event B on Thursday was not eligible to compete in Competition C, the jumping in which was all round much better than on the previous evening. So far as the premier award was concerned, two rounds sufficed to satisfy the judges of the superiority of Mr. Drought's Shajahan, and for the remaining prizes Peter Pan, Snappy Bit, Liqueur, and Not Guilty had to go round a third time. The winner gave two fine displays at a nice pace, and it was obvious after its initial round that Peter Pan would finish well up in the list of awards. In the end Miss Corbally's animal secured the blue rosette, Mr. Bamber's Not Guilty improving on its form of Thursday by coming up from fourth into third place.

The wall jump over two stone walls was a most interesting affair, but there were some notable failures, Cigarette, Tatters, Nugget, Countess, and Redgate being among them. At the close of the second round the judges decided in favour of Patrick's Day, and then came a test round for the three other prizes between Buldo, Silver Cross, and Sweet Gipsy, in which the latter excelled, but it was a near thing between the second and third, Silver Cross.

COMPETITION C.—First prize-winners in Competition B at this Show not eligible. First prize, £15; second, £10; third, £5; fourth, £3. Judges—Mr. John J. Ryan and Mr. John Kernohan.

Mr. A. C. Drought's SHAJAHAN .... Owner 1
Miss E. M. Corbally's PETER PAN Mr. J. Ennis 2
Mr. John Bamber's NOT GUILTY Mr. J. Bamber, jun. 3
Mr. James King's LIQUEUR ...... Mr. N. Clarke 4

Also competed—Mr. M. V. Jackson Heard's The Knut, Mr. George W. Brown's Destiny, Mr. Joseph Laverty's Redgate, Mr. J. Dooley's Lady Kate, Mr. J. D'Arcy's Snappy Bit, Miss E. Tuite's Blackbird, Mr. C. Byrne's Skylark, Mr. John Evans's Moonlight, Mr. P. Garnett's Hope, Mr. Alex. Craigie's Tinkle Toes, Mrs. A. Wall's Cigarette, Miss Angela Grattan-Bellew's Tatters, Miss Margaret R. S. Laidlaw's Buido, Mrs. Mills McDonnell's Fry, Mr. Thomas O'Roarke's Easter Fish, Mr. William Toomey's Meleady, Mr. C. Byrne's Bright Kildare, Miss M. Byrne's Griffinstown, Mr. John Bamber's Nanette, Mrs James M. Magee's Nugget, Mrs. Cahill's Silver Cross, Mrs. D'Arcy's Watchful, Miss Margaret R. S. Laidlaw's Pogo, Lt.-Col. C. Grattan-Bellew's M.P., Mrs. A. Wall's Moonshine, Mr. W. J. Fennell's Sutty Ann, Mr. James Coen's Countess, Lt.-Col. G. Grattan-Bellew's The Roné.

First Round.—The Knut refused the fence, and being got over flopped into the water, while he also did badly at the hurdles, and, with Destiny, was blackballed, Destiny being too impetuous. Redgate and Lady Kate likewise ruined their chances right off, and Blackbird, refusing the fence, retired, leaving the field to Snappy Bit, who accomplished a fair round, and was retained. Skylark just failed at the wall, but made a bad mistake at the water, where Moonlight also lost points; but the latter remained in, being good at the other jumps. Tinkle Toes made a poor attempt to get over the bank, but Hope's only error was a slight mistake at the hurdles. Cigarette and Tatters dropped their hind legs on the wall, and Cigarette thrice refused the double, while Tatters hit the hurdles. Tatters, however, was retained. At the fence Fry did badly, and was again at fault at the wall, refusing thrice; but Buldo took his jumps splendidly. Easter Fish removed a few stones from the wall and hit the hurdles, and Meleady, after once refusing the double, shook the hurdle, both going out. Bright Kildare and Griffinstown were very moderate, and both earned the black ball. Nanette refused the double, and unshipped her rider, and Nugget, rather too fast at his jumps, was also ruled out. Silver Cross hit the wall, and Watchful floundered into the water, but the first-named was retained. Blundering at the wall, M.P., who also took the water and hurdle badly, went out; but Pogo gave a fairish display, and its number remained in the frame. Moonshine and Peter Pan pleased the judges, though Moonshine threw its rider at the hurdles. Sutty Ann shifted some stones at the wall, and but for a mistake of little account at the hurdle Shajahan would have done remarkably well. Countess was by no means brilliant at the wall and hurdles; but Liqueur did little wrong and well merited retention. Not Guilty's mistake at the water was not serious, but Roué was by no means a finished performer.

Second Round.—Sent round singly, Snappy Bit did very well, indeed; but Moonlight loosened a few stones and landed into the water. Hope lost points at the double and water, and departed from the contest, and Tatters was also blackballed. Buldo almost cleared the bank in his stride, and hit the wall slightly; but Silver Cross had a good round. Pogo did his work fairly well until he came to the hurdle, but he was retained. A very stylish display was that given by Peter Pan, who was well clear of all his jumps; but Moonshine was put out. Shajahan registered a capital performance, but Sutty Ann was poor. Going at the wall at racing pace, Liqueur removed the stones and failed also at the hurdles. Not Guilty put in a good, steady round, but was not perfect at the water.

Snappy Bit, Peter Pan, Liqueur and Not Guilty were given another circuit, after which the awards were put up.

COMPETITION D (Open)—Wall jump over two stone walls. First prize, £15; second, £10; third, £5; fourth, £3. Judges—The Hon. Mr. Justice Wylie and Mr. John Kernahan.

Miss Shiela C. Maude's PATRICK'S DAY, Mr. T. Howell 1
Capt. J. B. Grant's SWEET GIPSY, Mr. R. Keating 2
Mrs. Cahill's SILVER CROSS ...Mr. J. Nuttall 3
Miss Margaret R. S. Laidlaw's BULDO Owner 4

Also competed—Miss M. Byrne's Griffinstown, Mr. John Bamber's Nanette, Mr. Joseph Laverty's Redgate, Mr. J. Dooley's Lady Kate, Mr. J. D'Arcy's Snappy Bit, Mr. John Morrow's Hasty, Mr. John Bamber's Not Guilty, Mr. John Evans's Moonlight, Mr. P. Garnett's Hope, Mr. Alex. Craigie's Tinkle Toes, Mrs. A. Wall's Cigarette, Miss Angela Grattan Bellew's Tatters, Mr. William Hayden's Galway Grey, Mr. Thomas O'Roarke's Easter Fish, Mrs. James M. Magee's Nugget, Mrs. D'Arcy's Watchful, Mr. John Meleady's Old Sport, Mrs. A. Wall's Moonshine, Lt.-Col. C. Grattan Bellew's M.P., Mr. A. C. Drought's Shajahan, Mr. W. J. Fennell's Sutty Ann, Mr. James Coen's Countess, Mr. James King's Liqueur, Miss Margaret R. S. Laidlaw's Pogo, Mr. William Toomey's Meleady, Lt.-Col. C. Grattan Bellew's The Roué.

Among those which survived the initial test were Patrick's Day, Not Guilty, Buldo, Silver Cross, Moonshine, Sweet Gipsy and Countess. At the second attempt Patrick's Day again gave an impressive display, but Not Guilty spoiled its chances at the second wall, while Buldo removed a few stones from the same obstacle. Little fault could be found with Silver Cross, but Moonshine blundered badly at the second. Sweet Gipsy was right good at both, but Countess hit the second very hard.

The number of Patrick's Day was then hoisted with the red rosette, and Buldo, Silver Cross, and Sweet Gipsy had another trial, Buldo making a very slight mistake at the first and the others negotiating both very well.

The competitions will be concluded to-day.

LAWN TENNIS.

AUSTRIA V. IRELAND.

THUNDERSTORM STOPS PLAY.

VIENNA, May 15.

Play in the first round Davis Cup tie between Austria and Ireland, which began here to-day, was limited to one set, a violent thunderstorm, which drenched the courts, then bringing the day's proceedings to a premature end. When the interruption occurred Captain C. F. Scroope (Ireland) had captured the first set from Count Salm without the loss of a game.

The match will be continued from this point to-morrow.

HOLLAND V. CZECHO-SLOVAKIA.

NOORDWYK-ON-SEA, HOLLAND, Friday.

Honours were divided in the first day's play of the Davis Cup first round tie between Holland and Czecho-Slovakia here to-day. Timmer, Holland, won the first single, beating Kozeluh, Czecho-Slovakia, 6-3, 6-4, 6-2. The second, however, went in favour of Czecho-Slovakia, T. Macenauer defeating H. Diemerkool, 3-6, 6-3, 6-2, 6-1.

In the first single Kozeluh was somewhat unfortunate; he missed many of his opponent's shots, and failed to take a single set. Timmer, on the other hand, played a safe game, with good passing shots. In the second single Diemerkool's energy was gradually worn down by the safety tactics of Macenauer, who played a very fine baseline game in the last three sets.

SANDYCOVE L.T.C.—At the general meeting the following officials and Committee were elected:—President, C. S. Levey; Hon. Treasurer, V. J. Baker; Hon. Secretary, J. A. Carey. Committee—Messrs. A. E. Evans (capt.), T. E. Murphy, R. Nelson, R. J. Anderson, J. E. Stokes.

FITZWILLIAM L.T.C.—The grass courts will be opened for play this afternoon.

MIXED DOUBLES AMERICAN TOURNAMENT will be held on SATURDAY, 23rd INST., at Wilton Club, in aid of Cappagh Hospital. Open to non members. Entries to J. J. MURPHY, Wilton Club, Wilton place.—(Advt.)

WATER POLO.

DUBLIN UNIVERSITY v. CLONTARF.

These teams met for the first time this season at Tara street Baths last evening in the Indoor League. The students were in full strength, whilst Clontarf were relying on several substitutes. The play was strenuous, characteristic of Leinster water polo. Trinity opened the scoring in the first half, Brooks finding the net with a fast shot. This was the only score up to the interval. On change of ends the University took command of the play, Hayes and Dockrell scoring three goals in quick succession. The best goal of the match, however, was that scored by Corbett, the Trinity half-back, who had to swim over half the length of the pond before he got clear of Quinn, who pressed him throughout. Bad shooting spoiled Clontarf Club's chances, and Brady was lucky to score. Result:—

Dublin University .... 5 goals.
Clontarf .... 1 goal.

Teams:—

Dublin University—Goal, T. Stafford; backs, D. Murtagh, J. Wallace; half-back, D. Corbett; forwards, H. Dockrell, H. Ellerker, A. B. Brooks.

Clontarf—Goal, A. Barratt; backs, H. F. Case, P. Lavery; half-back, J. S. Brady; forwards, O'S. Roche, J. Roche, J. Quinn.

HAYSHEDS, ETC.

Messrs. A. J. Main and Co., Ltd., 11 Leinster street, Dublin, have a stand which should attract farmers and others. A corrugated iron hayshed, 45 x 22 x 18 feet is the principal feature. There are numerous gates of pretty design, and a variety of wire, spring and bar fencings.

HIS GRACE THE ARCHBISHOP OF DUBLIN.
This being the only institution in Ireland to which single ladies in their declining years can look for a home, where they are devotedly cared for, and wherein to close their devout lives in happiness and peace, within the shadow of the Sanctuary, "The Poor Servants of the Mother of God" in charge of the institution earnestly appeal to the charitable public for help according to their means. There is still a considerable debt on the building which the Sisters were obliged to have erected, and they find it very difficult to meet the interest at this most trying time. The institution now affords accommodation for 150 inmates. The Sisters confidently hope that the kind citizens of Dublin, with their traditional generosity, will come to their aid by responding to this appeal. Fervent prayers are offered several times daily by the Community and Inmates for the spiritual and temporal welfare of all benefactors, and there are 35 Masses offered annually for benefactors, living and dead, and for the happy repose of the souls of their departed parents, relations, and friends.
Contributions from those who cannot attend will be thankfully received by His Grace the Archbishop, the Very Rev. Father Browne, S.J.; the Very Rev. Fathers, S.J., Upper Gardiner street, and St. Teresa's, Clarendon street, and by the Superioress of the Institution.

NEW CHURCH TO OUR LADY OF LOURDES,
Lr. GLOUCESTER STREET, DUBLIN.
A temporary Edifice has been erected on the site secured for the New Church, which is badly needed in this locality.
It is already crowded and the Shrine has aroused a deep spirit of Devotion to Our Lady of Lourdes, with most beneficial results among the people.
The Accommodation afforded by the Temporary Structure is inadequate. The Administrator strongly appeals to the Catholics of Dublin and of Ireland for the means to undertake the building of the New Church. The district being one of the most densely populated and poorest in the city, little pecuniary aid can be expected from it.
The Holy Sacrifice of the Mass will be offered EACH WEEK for Subscribers
Subscriptions will be thankfully received by any of the Clergy, or by

There were no British subjects among the victims of the railway disaster on Tuesday evening, when the Moscow-Riga express was derailed about 50 miles from Moscow, says Reuter.

Mr. John MacCormack arrived in London last night, having travelled from New York in the Olympic. He is to sing at two concerts, and will remain in the British Isles until October 3. In August he will visit Ireland and see his relatives and friends. He stated that he had given up opera most definitely.

NEWS SUMMARY.

IRELAND.

The inaugural meeting of the newly-formed Irish Federation of University Women was held in the Regent House, Trinity College, Dublin, yesterday afternoon, and was attended by representatives of Dublin and Queen's Universities and of the three colleges of the National University of Ireland.—(Page 8.)

Erected in 1740, Lord Bessborough's residence in County Kilkenny, which was destroyed by armed men in 1923, is to be re-built.—(Page 7.)

Early yesterday morning a large body of soldiers and Civic Guards took possession of a considerable area of the County Cork in the neighbourhood of the City of Cork, and in addition to searching houses interrogated the inhabitants. The search, the object of which is unknown, was continued during the day.—(Page 7.)

Hutchinson's pharmacy on The Quay, Waterford, was destroyed by fire yesterday, and the damage is estimated at £10,000. Two of the occupants, who were unable to escape from an upper room, were rescued by a Civic Guard, and a maid jumped from a window on the second floor, but was not injured.—(Page 7.)

The Church of Ireland Synod yesterday passed a resolution approving of investment in the St. Barnabas' Public Utility Society, Ltd., if the Representative Body should see fit. The mover of the resolution (the Rev. D. H. Hall) sought an investment of £5,000 to enable him to complete his housing scheme.—(Page 7.)

GREAT BRITAIN.

To relieve unemployment, the Blue Star Line has decided to place its contracts with British yards, although £300,000 would have been saved by having new vessels built abroad.—(Page 7.)

SPORTING.

At Powerstown Park yesterday Trim Gate won the May Plate, Mrs. Jiggs the Maiden Plate, Princess Theresa the Curragh Plate, Elgar the Commons Plate, Jack Frost the Foxhunters' Plate, and Solus the Southern Plate.—(Page 4.)

At Gatwick Hussein won the Home-bred Three-Year-Old Cup.—(Page 4.)

FINANCIAL.

London Stock Markets were irregular. The only lively department was Rubbers, and here prices were higher.—(Page 10.)

The Treasury bill rate rose to 4 23-32 per cent. Loan conditions were more comfortable in Lombard street, the rate for overnight advances being 4½ per cent., with balances available at 3 per cent.—(Page 10.)

Dublin Stock Market was rather dull. Guinness Shares closed ½ down at 66. Johnston, Mooney and O'Brien rose 4s. 6d. to 72s. 6d.—(Page 10.)

An Act of Faith.

The General Synod of the Church of Ireland has passed an inspiring vote of confidence in the country's future. Its annual budget, which was discussed on Thursday, showed that the Church's finances continue to be handled in the tradition of prudence and efficiency that was founded fifty years ago; but in one respect Mr. J. A. Maconchy, who introduced the Representative Body's report, refused to speak comfortable words. As a result of the forced realisation of investments the Church's reserves have been reduced by £346,953 to a net figure of £40,698. This heavy loss is due mainly to the depreciation of Irish railway stocks, in which the Church long ago made investments at a cost price of nearly one million pounds. Mr. Maconchy stated an exceedingly able case for the creation of further reserves as a safeguard against future emergencies. He proposed a series of resolutions which, in effect, carried £10,000 to the depleted reserve fund at some cost to the incomes of the clergy—and the Church has 359 incumbents with salaries under £400. The Bishop of Clogher proposed amendments which restored in part the grants to the clergy and reduced the provision for reserve to £5,000. "The population of the Church of Ireland," he said, "was a collateral security with which no other security could be compared"; and the Synod, agreeing with him, adopted his amendments by a large majority. This rejection of an official recommendation was not a slight upon the wisdom of the Representative Body. Indeed, nobody could say that Mr. Maconchy spoke merely as "a sophister, economist and calculator"; but the Synod held—and, we think, rightly—that here was an occasion for something higher than the logic of expediency. It asserted for once, even on budget day, the human aspect of the Church's outlook. It made a profession of faith not only in the loyalty and self-sacrifice of future generations of Churchmen, but in the good-will of the Irish people and in the stability of our national institutions.

We said on Wednesday that the Church of Ireland's opportunities for service have been improved rather than impaired by the coming of self-government. In the Free State the political barriers which separated class from class and creed from creed have fallen. The country's moral and economic problems are now national problems in the fullest sense, inviting for their solution the co-operation of all good citizens. For the moment, perhaps, a certain shyness prevails; but we are convinced that within a short time the fellowship of Protestant and Roman Catholic—clergy as well as laity—in all sorts of public service will be accepted as the natural order of things. The change will transform and sweeten the whole character of life—most of all in our country districts, where hitherto the armed neutrality of the different Churches has blocked economic and social progress. In every town and village the joint efforts of the Roman Catholic and Protestant clergy could give a splendid impetus to the Government's plans for the development of agricultural industries and to the creation of social interests which would counteract the appeal of the drink-shop. We welcome as a notable move in the right direction the General Synod's action in taking under its ægis the Reverend D. H. Hall's scheme for house-building in Dublin. Yesterday the Synod authorised the Representative Body—"it should deem fit"—to accept Mr. Hall's Public Utility Society as a proper security for the investment of Church funds. We hope that the Body will "deem fit" cordially and without delay. Even if the security were not as ample as it is, from the financial point of view, here surely is a case for the application of Swift's laconic sermon: "'He that giveth to the poor lendeth to the Lord.' If you approve of the security, down with the dust." The Dean of Christ Church Cathedral said truly that nothing in recent years had done more than Mr. Hall's practical Christianity has done to put the Church of Ireland in good standing with the whole nation. Every cottage that is built in Dublin with the Church's money will help to—

"build Jerusalem
In Ireland's green and pleasant land."

France and Morocco.

The outbreak of war between France and the native tribes of the Riff is likely to have fateful results for North Africa, and may be the prelude to a larger conflict. The origin of the present fighting is obscure. Probably it is to be found in the overweening conceit of Abdel Krim, the Riffian leader, who, having undoubtedly taught the Spanish Army a severe lesson, believes that he is a military genius with a mission from Allah to drive all infidels out of North Africa. At any rate, his tribesmen decided last week to invade the French zone, which lies to the south of the slice of land that theoretically belongs to Spain. The French authorities, however, lost little time. A large force of French troops, both white and coloured, moved against the Riffs, who had occupied well fortified positions along the Ouergha river and were entrenched along the broad plateau which crowns the massif of the Bibane mountains. The offensive was ordered by Marshal Lyautey, High Commissioner of Morocco. It was entrusted to General de Chambrun, who was provided with ample material of war, and its results already have been most successful. Aeroplanes were used in large numbers, both for purposes of reconaissance and for bombing. The French troops advanced under cover of artillery fire, and, despite the extremely stubborn defence of Abdel Krim's tribesmen, not only was the village of Bibane captured at the first assault, but General de Chambrun was able to consolidate his position on the plateau. The fighting was so fierce that Senegalese soldiers were forced to take almost every post at the bayonet's point, and, apparently, little quarter was given or sought on either side. Kid-glove methods are useless against the Riffs, whose valour is equalled only by their savagery.

The French have undertaken an exceedingly difficult task. If they succeed in following up their initial victory, they may be able to drive Abdel Krim to the sea, since his forces are surrounded on all sides; but warfare in the terrible terrain of Northern Africa cannot be judged by European standards, and the possibilities of an extended guerilla campaign cannot be ignored. It is quite likely that Abdel Krim is trying to raise a jehad throughout Islam. At the time when he defeated the Spaniards and took Raisuli prisoner he made no secret of his desire to purge Northern Africa of the Giaour. He seeks to become the successor of the Caliph at Constantinople and is anxious to secure the co-operation of his fellow-Moslems in Algeria, Tunis, Egypt, and even Palestine and the Middle East. France, like Britain, has had some experience of native wars, and is not likely, therefore, to underestimate the magnitude of the military problem which confronts her. Abdel Krim's men are well armed. They are excellent marksmen, who know every inch of the country in which fighting is taking place. They are equipped adequately with artillery, most of which they have captured from time to time from the Spaniards, while they even have a few aeroplanes, manned by European pilots. Many competent critics are of the opinion that the French have embarked on an enterprise which will prove to be as prolonged and as costly, both in lives and treasure, as the campaign of the British against the Mahdi. Everything depends on the next few weeks. If General de Chambrun can "round up" Abdel Krim, an easy victory will be assured, in which case the future of the "Spanish zone" will become extremely interesting. If, on the other hand, the Riffs manage to outwit him, the fighting in Morocco may develop into a serious war.

The Mothers' Union.

Home life, the most precious of human institutions, has fared ill at the hands of modern progress. In olden days humble as well as exalted families dwelt from generation to generation in the same beloved place, and the young folk grew to maturity under the wise guidance of their elders. To-day, at a tender age, youths and girls go from home to live in strange cities, and the world which they enter, with its giddy whirl of gaiety, is filled with unsettling influences. No more sacred work can be undertaken than that which the women of the Mothers' Union have set before themselves for accomplishment. For close on half a century this fine organisation has striven to bring home to the race a deeper realisation of the sanctity of marriage and to inspire a lofty sense of parental responsibility. To-day the Union has over 9,000 branches, spreading throughout the world, and numbers some 400,000 earnest women among its supporters. Next Monday the Central President, Mrs. Hubert Barclay, will arrive in Ireland on a fortnight's visit. Mrs. Barclay will spend four days in the North, and then will come to Dublin to begin a tour of the South. We doubt not that she will receive a cordial Irish welcome, but we hope that admiration for her work will be translated into emulation. No céad míle fáilte could please our visitor so well as the knowledge that her presence had given fresh energy to those engaged in the same noble Christian work. Mrs. Barclay's visit is timely. Irish home life has been shaken by the social changes of recent years, and our country never stood in keener need of organised endeavour to restore the ideal of the Christian family. Material progress—the multiplication of wealth and of pleasures—is but an illusion if it is bought by the sacrifice of the austere virtues. The old-fashioned family, bound together by love, duty and piety, and upheld by industry and thrift, was the well-spring of enduring happiness. The Mothers' Union has an invaluable service to render to the country in bringing home to the young generation the truths so finely enunciated by the King when he said: "The foundations of national glory are set in the homes of the people; they will only remain unshaken while the family life of our race and nation is strong, simple and pure."

"Tips."

It is well to know one's liabilities in advance. Britons, doubtless, will be grateful to the conference of postal workers which has decided in May that the usual "Christmas boxes" will be expected in December. The postman's little levy is one of those gratuities that only a Scrooge could grudge. Day by day the postman brings to our door a bag laden with mystery and romance. Therein are tidings of joy and of sorrow, billets doux for the young folk, news from forgotten kinsmen for the old. Ambition, greed and kindlier emotions watch for the words of fortune that may be uttered by any day's post, and when we cease to be excited by the handful of letters brought to our door, life itself will have grown stale. With regret would we see the postman, that plodding Mercury who has brought us so many messages of fate, become a stern bargainer for pay, too proud to accept the gifts of friendship. To some other classes we tender our "tips" with less readiness. The shy man goes through life ceaselessly embarrassed by doubt whether he should offer gratuities, and, if so, of what value. Sometimes he gives too much and is taken for a fool; sometimes too little, and is called mean. Mankind may be divided into two castes—the tippers and the tipped: and the latter are the better off. Those who belong to the tipping class should agree among themselves to observe in our own country the sensible French arrangement by which "tips" are paid in a constant proportion of one-tenth of the bill.

COURT AND PERSONAL.

Every day the Duke and Duchess of York are adding to their lengthy list of engagements. On Monday, May 25th, the Duke will attend the regimental dinner of the 11th Hussars (Prince Albert's Own), of which he is Colonel-in-Chief. On Wednesday, May 27th, the Duchess of York will be present at the soirée arranged by the Contemporary Art Society in Spring Gardens Gallery, when Madame Suggia and Mr. Leonard Borwick will contribute to an interesting programme.

Prince Henry was among the guests at the ball given by the Duchess of Buccleuch for her daughter, Lady Angela Scott, at her residence in Grosvenor square, London. Yesterday Princess Beatrice attended the Matinee at the Scala Theatre in aid of the funds of the London Homœopathic Hospital. Princess Louise Duchess of Argyll will arrive in London next Tuesday from Cap Ferrat, and will spend the season at Kensington Palace.

Many foreign Royalties are expected to visit London within the next couple of months, and it is understood that the dates of the visits will be shortly announced. News comes from Italy that Queen Olga of Greece intends to leave for England early next month, and will spend the season in London.

The Marchioness of Carisbrooke, who has been staying with the King and Queen of Spain at the Royal Palace, Madrid, will return next Tuesday to London, where the Marquis of Carisbrooke will join her shortly. Lady May Cambridge and Lady Barbara Bingham are expected to arrive at Southampton from South Africa on May 25th. The Countess of Hardwicke has returned from Paris, and will be in residence at 13 Queensberry place, S.W., for the season.

The Countess of Lytton has left London for Marseilles, to embark on the ss. Maloja for Bombay, where she will join her husband, who, during the absence of the Earl of Reading, is Viceroy of India and Acting-Governor-General. Sir John and Lady Harrington will leave to-day by the Cunard liner, Berengaria, for New York. Viscount and Viscountess Inchcape have left London for Paris.

Major-General the Hon. Sir Francis Bingham, K.C.B., K.C.M.G., has been gazetted Honorary-Colonel of the Royal Militia of the Island of Jersey, in succession to the late Major-General Hugh Sutlej Gough. Sir Francis, who was appointed Lieutenant-Governor of Jersey last year, is the third son of the late Earl of Lucan, and brother of the present peer. He has held several appointments in the Inter-Allied Commission of Control, and has many foreign Orders and decorations.

Nearly twelve hundred guests were present at the reception, held in the Wharncliffe Rooms, London, by Viscountess Elveden, to meet the Prime Minister and Mrs. Baldwin. There was a large attendance of the members of the Women's Unionist Organisation, who were in London for the annual conference.

The marriage has been arranged, and will take place shortly, between Lieutenant-Colonel P. A. Meldon, D.S.O., Royal Artillery, eldest son of the late Sir Albert and Lady Meldon, of Vevay, Bray, Co. Wicklow, and Albreda, younger daughter of the late Sir Alington and Lady Bewicke-Copley, of Sprotborough Hall, Doncaster.

LONDON LETTER.

SOCIAL REFORMS.

59 FLEET STREET, LONDON,
FRIDAY NIGHT.

The Prime Minister sent a letter to be read this afternoon at the meeting of the Women's Unionist Organisation, and, in referring to the pensions for widows scheme, added that these reforms were but the first step in a series of improvements in our social structure which the Government intended to undertake. The announcement is an interesting one, but it only confirms what is already known. The Prime Minister has a cut and dried policy which he means to carry out, and this policy is mainly concerned with social reforms. Pensions for widows and orphans is only the prelude to other interesting schemes which will see the light in due course. When the policy has been exhausted it probably will be found that the poor law, as we know it now, is a thing of the past, and the workhouse but a name.

The Labour Party.

The Labour Party in the House of Commons is suffering from accentuated differences which are becoming more and more obvious. The bitter speeches made by extremists are, perhaps, an indication that the Communist section of the party is far from happy at the political outlook generally. Mr. Cook, the Secretary of the Miners' Federation, as a professed "humble follower of Lenin," is trying his utmost to liven things up generally. It is doubted whether Mr. Cook is anxious for the success of the inquiry by coal-owners and miners into the existing conditions of the industry; for the report may affect the position of the Miners' Federation. Mr. Philip Snowden has taken advantage of the general uncertainty in the party to denounce strikes, while a growing section is strongly in favour of the Government's preferential treatment for Empire produce, and the Labour Whips are experiencing difficulty in getting these members to vote against the Finance Bill. Taken altogether as an Opposition in the House of Commons, the party is singularly ineffective.

The Weather.

London has made up its mind that summer has come, and, heedless of weather warnings, has donned light clothes and is out to enjoy every moment of the sunshine. Great hopes are entertained for the week-end, and plans are being made everywhere for an out-of-door celebration. It does seem likely that the fine spell will last over Sunday, but the promise is overshadowed by a threat of thunderstorms. The week-end exodus really began this evening; for laden motors were pouring out of London by all the main roads, while the main line stations reported unusually good business.

The London Season.

It was generally agreed that the London season of last year was a wonderful one, marked by a great influx of wealthy visitors, and it seems likely that this will be repeated this year. The hotels are expecting to receive large parties of visitors who have made arrangements to stay in London for some weeks at considerable expense. Many are coming from the United States and South America, while the overseas Dominions will not be unrepresented. There are also several Indian Princes in London for the season and polo, including the Maharajah of Jodhpore, the Maharajah of Kapurthala, the Maharajah of Rajpipla, the Maharajah of Vizianagram, and Prince Karsnjit Singh, while others are on their way.

American Herdihood.

The temerity of the American citizen who forced himself upon the King at Wembley yesterday has been much discussed to-day, and, though it is generally agreed that he meant to be courteous, the view is that he was wrong in his intrusion upon the King when moving freely among his people. If everybody takes to shaking hands with the King when engaged, as he was at Wembley, a guard will become necessary, and the freedom both of King and people will be destroyed. Probably this is the only country where such an incident could have happened. The American citizen would not have been able to walk up to his own ruler and shake hands. The United States President is accompanied by six secret service men, armed to the teeth, according to a Government regulation, since the attack made on President Garfield; and a sudden outburst of courtesy like that of yesterday might prove awkward, not to say dangerous, to the enthusiast.

London to Sweden.

European air travel was carried a stage further to-day, when a service between London and Sweden was started. The first part of the journey from the Croydon Aerodrome to Amsterdam is performed in a British machine, and from there a Swedish line maintains the service to Malmö, with an intermediate station at Copenhagen. The time-table provides for a departure from Croydon at 8 a.m. and arrival at Malmö at 7 p.m. Germany has bargained with the Swedish company, and granted permission for machines to fly over German territory in exchange for the right of German machines to carry on a service across Sweden. Two new German services are projected for the coming summer. One will connect Danzig with Stockholm, and the other will run between Berlin and Oslo, with stopping places at Malmö and Gothenburg.

Medical Visitors.

Seven hundred medical men from all parts of the United States and Canada are to arrive in this country next month, many bringing their wives and families with them. They will arrive on June 1st. A week will be spent in London, and there will be an inaugural ceremony on June 2nd at the Wigmore Hall, when the Duke of York will preside, and many distinguished men will be present. A banquet at the Guildhall, with garden parties by the United States Ambassador and the staffs of the London, St. Bartholomew's and other hospitals will form part of the festive week. Before the doctors return home visits will be paid to Dublin and Belfast.

The Stock Exchange Sweep.

The "Hush, Hush" sweep on the London Stock Exchange for the Derby has been drawn, but, in continuance of the policy of silence, the names of the lucky ones will not be published, and numbers only are to be given. The prize money amounts to £80,000, divided into prizes of fifty, twenty and ten thousand pounds.

Empire Day.

It is expected that the Empire Day demonstrations will this year exceed those of any previous year; for, as May 24th falls on a Sunday, the celebrations are to be extended over the four days from the 22nd to the 25th. The Earl of Meath and other members of the Empire Day Movement Committee have made strenuous efforts to further the recognition of the day throughout the Empire. The Empire Day Service at the Wembley Stadium on May 24th is to be distributed from all the broadcasting stations, and on the following day the programme will include a message by the Prime Minister and a talk on "The Empire's Call to Boys and Girls," by Lord Meath.

SUCCESS OF THE SHOW WEEK.

SMALL FARMERS IN DUBLIN

COMBINING BUSINESS WITH PLEASURE.

RE-STOCKING FARMS

DUBLIN had counted on a busy week, but the Spring Show week of 1925 has embraced an activity far beyond what was expected. Sunshine and genial warmth have done a great deal, no doubt, to encourage optimism and satisfaction, as well as to promote an appearance of business in the city. Inquiries by the Irish Times establish, however, the fact that there is solid foundation for the impression of good business in the week now ending.

The number of provincial visitors to the city has been exceptionally large, and a great many of the visitors must have come with money in their pockets. Amusement caterers as well as the large city shops have been busy, and, besides cash transactions, booked orders have been satisfactory.

BUSINESS AND PLEASURE.

The Show itself has been an extraordinary success. It used to be strictly a farmers' affair, and even then the small farmer did not feel himself to be much concerned. In the past year or two the attractiveness of the Show has been extended very greatly; and not only have hundreds of small farmers been persuaded that the Show is a matter of interest for them, but their wives and families have insisted on making it an occasion for a trip to Dublin.

In addition, large numbers of Dublin people seem to have decided to make the Spring Show a social event. In one way and another the attendances have grown, and the crowds at this year's Show have been out of all comparison with what one recalls of pre-war spring gatherings at Ballsbridge.

At such an affair, however, large crowds do not necessarily mean solid business beyond the turnstiles. The really important aspect of the present Spring Show is seen in the satisfaction of the commercial representatives there, first at the amount of business done, with old customers who have cast aside the caution of recent years, and then at the number of inquiries from new sources which seem to contain good prospects of orders.

STAND-HOLDERS PLEASED.

Almost without exception stand-holders, questioned by Irish Times representatives, have expressed satisfaction with the business done in the past three days. Firms which have taken space for the first time have found the results beyond their expectations, and in two or three instances the representatives in charge said that they hoped to take greater space at the next Show.

Still more interesting was the testimony of firms which have been represented at the Show regularly for many years. In those cases it was said repeatedly that the amount of business exceeded all the experiences of recent years. Such a result was all the more pleasing in that the complaints and the known difficulties of the farmers, due to the succession of bad seasons, had prepared the firms for a lean time.

RE-STOCKING FARMS.

Two explanations were suggested for the better result. In the first place, it was thought that many small farmers, now settling down to development after the upsets of the past few years, are anxious to adopt progressive methods. Next, from the character of the customers, it was argued that many landowners, those of the old land-owning class, who have been hesitating as to whether they would remain or clear out of the country, have now decided definitely to remain, and consequently are re-stocking their farms and renewing equipment.

The representative of one of the largest firms of agricultural implement manufacturers gave numerous instances in support of the latter explanation. He also produced an impressive bundle of cheques, some of which were payments on account in respect of farm machinery that will not be delivered until next August.

SPORTING GUNS.

The exhibit of a big range of sporting guns on the stand of a well-known firm of suppliers of arms and ammunition was noted as a display that could not have been permitted unless the country had settled down in a way that could not have been counted on a year of two ago.

Even when allowance has been made for the special cheerfulness induced by the fine weather, the evidence of good business is sufficient to warrant optimism and a confidence in improvement of trade based on progress in the basic industry of the Free State.

ALEXANDRA COLLEGE.

ANNUAL GUILD DINNER.

The dinner in connection with the annual conference of the Alexandra College Guild was given in the Jellicoe Hall of the College last night, and proved a very enjoyable reunion. The hall was artistically decorated with flowers. Miss White, LL.D., presided at the principal table, having on her right Professor Caroline Spurgeon, and on her left Mrs. Hannay, O.B.E. An excellent dinner was provided. The toasts of the King and Queen, Queen Alexandra, and the Governor-General of the Irish Free State were proposed by the President. The Alexandra College Guild was proposed by Professor Spurgeon, and was responded to by Mrs. A. S. H. Richardson, and Mrs. Hannay replied on behalf of "Our Guests," proposed by Professor Mary Hayden. After dinner Mrs. Lambert Barrett, Miss Muriel Starkie, Miss B. Jellett and Miss Daphne Thompson contributed to an enjoyable musical programme.

Among those present were:—

Lady Thompson, Lady Hanson, Miss Hutton, Mrs. Bewley, Mrs. Overend, Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. Harris, Miss A. French, Miss Shuter, Miss H. Reed, Miss Merrick, Miss Macnie, Miss E. Steen, Miss D. Chance, Mrs. Starkie, Mrs. Lyster, Mrs. Falkiner, Mrs. Preston, Miss Stephens, Miss E. Drury, Mrs. E. Booth, Miss M. Brooks, Miss Z. Tottenham, Miss Sullivan, Mrs. D. Wilson, Miss Russell, Miss F. Price, Miss V. Gordon, Miss Rowlette, Miss Keen, Mrs. McDonald, Miss K. Fisher, Miss Hayden, Mrs. Reeves, Miss M. Story, Mrs. D. F. Wilson, Mrs. Luce, Miss E. Perry, Miss Shillington, Miss M. Drury, Mrs. Glenn, Miss H. B. Lewis, Mrs. Steele, Miss M. S. Joynt, Mrs. J. N. White, Mrs. A. F. Dixon, Miss Barwell, Miss Cameron, Miss M. Butler, Miss N. Ringwood, Miss S. Magan, Miss Maeve Smith, Miss H. Finny, Miss L. Davidson, Mrs. Barrett, Miss W. Bewley, Miss A. Haythornthwaite, Miss D. Thompson, Miss C. Orpen, Miss J. Law, Miss S. Trench, Miss P. Ruby, Miss I. Ruby, Miss B. McFarland, Miss P. Boothman, Miss P. Slater, Miss M. Nesbitt, Miss N. Griffiths, Mrs. McConnell, Mrs. Crichton, Mrs. Watson, Miss B. Jellett, Mrs. Boxwell, Mrs. W. Starkie, Miss H. Starkie, Mrs. Bland, Miss M. Inglis, Miss M. Cherry, Miss R. Ashworth, Miss E. Dixon, Miss D. White, Miss Wilma Cherry, Miss J. Sealy, Miss K. White, Miss G. Bernal, Miss M. Orr, Miss R. Robb, and many members and associates of the Guild.

OVER 36,000 AT THE SHOW.

ANOTHER "RECORD" ATTENDANCE.

DELIGHTFUL weather again favoured the Spring Show at Ballsbridge yesterday, and the attendance, though not so big as on Thursday, was probably a few thousand better than on the same day a year ago, the figures and estimates being as follow:—

	Spring Shows. (Approx.) 1925.	1924.	Horse Show. 1924.
First Day	8,000	6,803	7,241
Second Day	16,500	13,343	16,746
Third Day	11,500	8,731	22,765

There were in evidence many organised parties from the country and from schools. The reduced price of admission for children attracted many family parties.

A strong centre of attraction was the crop-drying apparatus, keen interest being also taken in the work of the rototiller. These two machines were afterwards awarded silver medals, as new implements likely to help farmers.

In the jumping competition the horses showed better form than on the previous day, but the quality of the jumping over the stone walls was poor.

The attendance in the general enclosure was large, but the grand stand enclosure was not so well patronised.

The Garda Siochana Band and a ladies' string band provided the music in the enclosure and the main hall respectively.

A parade of the winning horses and cattle enabled the public to see what the Show had brought together in the way of high-class stock.

NEXT YEAR'S SHOW.

The dates of the Spring Agricultural Show for 1926 were fixed by the Royal Dublin Society Committee of Agriculture yesterday for the 12th, 13th, 14th and 15th May, being the corresponding dates to this year.

The Chairman (Mr. Justice Wylie) referred to the remarkable success of the present Show, and the Committee's unanimous congratulations were conveyed to Mr. Bohane and his staff for their great efforts in organising this National Agricultural Show.

FOREIGN TRADE.

REDUCING THE ADVERSE BALANCE.

The fact that less than 2 per cent. of our exports were sent direct to "other countries" did not mean that over 98 per cent. of our exports were "purchased" by Great Britain and Northern Ireland, said Professor C. H. Oldham, the President of the Statistical and Social Inquiry Society, at a meeting at Plunkett House, Dublin, last evening.

What interpretation could they put upon the fact that imports exceeded exports by £17,000,000. Banking statistics did not show that they were living beyond their income by that amount. Because imports were valued after their arrival and exports after their departure, there must be an excess in the value of the imports equivalent to the value of the transport both ways.

The values "declared" for some export items seemed to be too low and for some import items too high.

In 1919-20 all Ireland drew an income from investments in Great Britain of £16,000,000. Perhaps not more than £5,000,000 of that was owned in Northern Ireland, leaving £11,000,000 owned in the Free State, of which only about £8,500,000 has been identified by the Revenue Department.

Other sums were mentioned, such as British war pensions, £2,436,830, and emigrants' remittances, about £1,000,000, and tourists' expenditure. These points, the lecturer thought, indicated the directions in which an explanation of the £17,000,000 surplus of imports were to be found.

Mr. Patrick Marley, Revenue Department, analysed the 1924 trade statistics relating to dutiable goods. More direct trading would, in his opinion, help to reduce our adverse balance of trade. Some of the articles liable to duty were not the produce of Great Britain or Northern Ireland, though consigned therefrom, and it was apparent that, if direct trading could be developed, they would be in a position to import the bulk of their dutiable goods from the countries of origin.

Mr. John Hooper, Director of Statistics, said that they were doing what they could to make their figures as correct as possible, and would be glad to have their attention called to any apparent inaccuracies. The published results of his department appeared to be sufficiently detailed and not too detailed for regrouping, and they were not losing sight of the question of re-classification.

BOUNDARY COMMISSION.

DERRY WITNESSES HEARD.

The Irish Boundary Commission in Derry last night issued the following report:—"At to-day's sitting of the Irish Boundary Commission further witnesses were heard on behalf of the Derry Nationalist Registration Association in support of their claim for inclusion in the Irish Free State of the City of Londonderry and of the North-West Liberties."

It is understood that the witnesses yesterday included Senator John McLoughlin, Buncrana, Donegal; Messrs. Basil McGuckin and George Leek, Nationalist members for Londonderry City and County in the Northern Parliament, and Mr. John McCloskey, shirt manufacturer, Londonderry.

MASONIC GRAND LODGE

PROGRAMME FOR BI-CENTENARY CELEBRATIONS

The official programme for the observance of the Bi-Centenary of the Grand Lodge of Freemasons of Ireland appears in our advertising columns to-day.

Many distinguished Masonic visitors—among whom are Grand Officers of the Grand Lodges of England, Canada, Quebec, Pennsylvania, Maryland, California, Massachusetts, Western Australia and Denmark—have signified their intention of being present at the festival.

The Masonic Female Orphan School at Ballsbridge, built in 1882 as the outcome of the first Masonic bazaar of that year, and extended as the result of the great Masonic bazaar of 1892, will be visited by the guests of the Grand Lodge of Ireland on the morning of Friday, 5th June. There are over 100 girls maintained and educated there, and, in addition, 80 younger girls are receiving grants for maintenance and education in their own homes until they reach an age suitable for admission to the school.

At Richview, Clonskeagh, which will be visited on the afternoon of the same day, 100 boys are receiving education, and in both schools the educational attainments compare favourably with those of other secondary schools in Ireland.

INCIDENT OF GROCERS' ASSISTANTS' STRIKE.

VAN STOPPED AND BURNED.

A van belonging to Messrs. Leverett and Frye, Grafton street, Dublin, was stopped in Dublin last evening in Iona road by three armed men who removed the horse, poured petrol on the van and its contents, and set it ablaze. The firm of Messrs. Leverett and Frye is one of those affected by the strike of grocers' assistants.

ARRESTED BY HYDROPLANE.

STOPPING ILLEGAL FISHING ON THE CLYDE.

"A ROTTEN WAY."

A hydroplane which swooped down on three Fleetwood trawlers in the Firth of Clyde was responsible for the appearance of the three captains in court yesterday on a charge of fishing within the prohibited area.

It was stated that the fishery cruiser Vigilant was patrolling on Wigtownshire coast, when three trawlers were sighted a long distance off. The cruiser's new hydroplane, which is capable of travelling at forty miles per hour, was sent in chase, and quickly effected the capture of the poachers. Cruiser officers were put in charge of the trawlers, which were then taken to Campbelltown.

Their masters yesterday admitted illegal trawling, and were each fined £100, with confiscation of nets. One trawl-master said it was "a fair catch," and he would never enter the Firth of Clyde again as long as the cruiser had that hydroplane.

The master of another trawler complained that it was a rotten way to catch a man. He maintained that the Vigilant by herself would never have been able to effect the capture of the vessels.

WORK FOR BRITISH SHIPYARDS.

£300,000 SACRIFICED TO HELP UNEMPLOYED.

With reference to the Blue Star Line contract for British shipbuilders, Sir Edmund Vestey, in a statement issued yesterday, states that the company is bringing its Argentine to London chilled meat service up to date, and is replacing its present fleet on that route with a new fleet of express steamers of large refrigerator capacity. Orders for two of these steamers have been placed with Messrs. Lithgow, Ltd., of Glasgow, and two with Messrs. Palmers, of Newcastle. Contracts for the remainder are now being negotiated.

"The Blue Star Line, Ltd., is owned by Lord Vestey and Sir Edmund Vestey, and in placing the orders for these steamers in the United Kingdom at a cost of over £2,700,000 we are paying £500,000 more than the sum for which we could have obtained the completed vessels on the Continent. We do this because we believe that it is in the interest of the country that we should make this sacrifice.

"It is obvious that if the present state of unemployment continues our country must go down, and no Government, whether Conservative, Labour, or Liberal, will be able to stay in power that does not solve that question, and also that of the £300,000,000 spent on drink. The nation demands remedies at once, and they are at hand if politicians will sink their differences and try to help our men."

The Press Association is informed that the Blue Star Line have availed themselves of the Trades Facilities Act for a considerable proportion of the money involved in the contracts for the new refrigerated ships. This will necessitate a considerable proportion of the raw materials being purchased in this country.

[Unemployment in the shipbuilding industry at present is 33.2 per cent.]

SIR JAMES O'CONNOR.

APPOINTED KING'S COUNSEL IN ENGLAND.

The King has been pleased to approve, on the recommendation of the Lord Chancellor, the names of the following gentlemen for appointment to the rank of King's Counsel:—George Philip Langton and the Right Hon. Sir James O'Connor.

Sir James O'Connor is a native of the town of Wexford, where he was born fifty-three years ago. He was called to the Irish Bar in 1900, took Silk in 1908, acted as Solicitor-General for Ireland from 1914 until 1916, when he became Attorney-General. In 1918 he was elevated to the Bench, and sat as Lord Justice of Appeal until 1924, when the new Judiciary Act became operative in the Free State, and he went to reside in London. He received the honour of Knighthood in the present year.

CREDIT SOCIETIES.

STATE TO ADVANCE £100,000.

An addition to the Free State Estimates for the current financial year was published yesterday. It sets out the estimate of £100,000 for advances to agricultural credit societies, to be made on terms approved by the Minister for Finance. The allocation of this sum is in pursuance of the offer made by the Minister for Agriculture, with the concurrence of the Minister for Finance, in the course of the recent debate in the Dail on the losses suffered by farmers through the incidence of "fluke" disease among stock.

A supplementary estimate of £15,000 under the head of Property Losses Compensation is also issued. It represents merely a book transaction, as it is set off by a like amount payable to the Exchequer by the British Government, the account being in respect of ex gratia grants awarded as compensation for buildings destroyed in Dublin during Easter Week, 1916.

SMUGGLED FILMS.

£300 FINE IN DONEGAL.

There was a sequel at the Newtowncunningham District Court yesterday to an attempt to smuggle films, including one known as "Girl Shy," over the Donegal-Derry border.

Evidence was given to the effect that the films were being taken over the border to Donegal on a Sunday evening in March for a surreptitious performance in a hall in Ballybofey when the motor was held up by Customs officers at Carrigans. The three occupants of the car, Sean McKeown, Edward McCabe, and James McCafferty, belonging to Derry, were detained. The three films which were seized were subsequently released on the payment of £300 by the proprietors of the Rialto Picture Theatre, Derry, in which the films had been shown, and from which they were taken without authority.

Expert evidence showed that the price, plus the duty on the films, was £110, and Justice Walsh, in imposing a fine of treble this amount (£330) on McKeown, with the alternative of six months' imprisonment, discharged the other defendants. He said that the real culprits were not before the Court. The defendants were only catspaws for other people, one of whom was within his jurisdiction and the other outside it.

Mr. Conaghan, for the defendant, lodged notice of appeal.

BARONET FOUND SHOT.

SIR E. G. B. PALMER'S DEATH IN HIS STUDY.

Sir Edward Geoffrey Broadley Palmer, of Withbote Hall, near Oakham, Leicestershire, was found by his butler shot dead yesterday morning in his study with a double-barrelled sporting gun by his side.

Sir Geoffrey, who was the tenth baronet, had been ill for some time, but had recently improved in health. He was born in 1864. He was High Sheriff of Rutland in 1910.

Sir Basil Blackett, Finance Minister in the Government of India, is likely to be appointed Managing Governor of the Imperial Bank of India.

EXCITING FIRE IN WATERFORD.

PHARMACY DESTROYED

OCCUPANTS RESCUED BY POLICEMAN.

Two persons were rescued from a burning house in Waterford yesterday by a member of the local force of the Civic Guard, who acted with great courage and promptitude. The fire, which destroyed a business house on The Quay, caused damage to the extent of £10,000.

CALL FOR HELP.

Shortly before eight o'clock the fire broke out in Hutchinson's Pharmacy, and owing to the highly inflammable nature of the stock in the shop spread with great rapidity to all parts of the house. At ten o'clock the outer walls only were standing.

While the fire was at its height the proprietor of the pharmacy, Mr. Hutchinson, junior, and his aged mother appeared at one of the windows in the third storey and called for help. Men who were in the street below called on them to jump into sheets which they held open for them, but they hesitated.

Then Guard Sullivan, of Lady Lane Station, climbed to the name board over the shop door, but was unable to reach those imprisoned in the room above. Calling to them not to jump, he descended to the street, and, seizing a ladder which had been brought from the Granville Hotel, ascended it and rescued Mrs. Hutchinson.

While he was descending the ladder with her the heat broke a large pane of glass in a window above him, and it fell on his head. Neither he nor Mrs. Hutchinson was injured, and when he had placed her in safety he again ascended the ladder and brought down Mr. Hutchinson. By this time the heat had become intense, and portion of Constable Sullivan's uniform was scorched.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

A little later the constable, while assisting to subdue the flames at the rear of the house, fell through a roof which had partly collapsed. In falling he caught a beam, and hung from it with his hands until his companions rescued him.

Miss Shanahan, the housemaid, was driven to a room on the second floor by the flames, and in terror jumped to the street. She escaped injury, but is suffering severely from shock.

The Fire Brigade, assisted by a large number of the Civic Guard, prevented the fire from spreading to the adjoining houses, although at one time it appeared as if the whole block would have been involved.

HIGH COMMISSIONER OF EGYPT.

APPOINTMENT OF SIR GEORGE LLOYD.

The Press Association's Eastbourne Correspondent says:—Sir George Lloyd, M.P. for Eastbourne, has been offered and has accepted the post of High Commissioner of Egypt, in succession to Lord Allenby. A meeting of the Executive Committee of the Eastbourne Unionist Association will be held to-day to consider the selection of his successor.

ROTARY CONFERENCE.

THE ISSUE BEFORE THE WORLD.

Dr. Woods, Bishop of Winchester, addressing the Rotary Conference at Blackpool yesterday, said that the world was now spending a thousand millions annually on preparation for war. There was a danger of a resuscitation of the evil doctrine of the balance of power.

The mechanical organisation of industry in these days was apt to be de-humanising unless they were careful. The tremendous issue before the world was: Would man's mechanical resources outrun his moral power? Not long ago the best thing that a man could do was to shoulder a rifle; the best thing that he could do now was to use his brains and think. They needed a new suit of mental clothes, and a new passion for fellowship

INDUSTRIAL UNREST.

PREMIER ON CONSERVATIVE IDEALS.

During two generations an industrial revolution had shattered the old social system, and has left the industrial life of the country in profound disorder, said Mr. Baldwin, addressing the Oxford University Conservative Association last night.

Salvation could only come through deliberate co-operate efforts, inspired by moral issues and guided by the scientific study of economic laws. Those were the ideals they were working for to-day.

He said that their party intended to fulfil their pledges at home and to carry out in their Dominions a policy of spreading those ideas of law, order and justice peculiar to our race, and so to strengthen our Empire.

He wished them to emulate the spirit of Lord Milner, to personally face difficulties and distress and to overcome them.

IMPERIAL PARLIAMENT

BUILDING MATERIALS.

LABOUR AND "PROFITEERING."

FROM OUR PARLIAMENTARY CORRESPONDENT.

WESTMINSTER, Friday.

The attendance in the House this afternoon seemed to indicate that the majority of members thought that their time would be better spent in enjoying the sunshine than in listening to a dull debate on the prices of bricks and mortar.

The measure under discussion was the Building Materials (Charges and Supply) Bill. It was identical in terms with the bill introduced by Mr. Wheatley during the lifetime of the Labour Government, which was intended as a corollary to his Housing Act. Mr. March, who moved the second reading to-day, could have had very faint hopes of persuading a Conservative majority to adopt a bill which frankly sought to apply a measure of State control to the building industry. It did, however, give him and his colleagues an opportunity of stating once more their case for the suppression of "rings" and monopolies. The main purpose of the bill was to prevent "profiteering" in building materials, and it empowered the Board of Trade, on the representations of the Ministry of Health, to conduct investigations and take action in cases where the prices charged were not justified by the costs of production. The hon. member's main argument was that a proceeding which was considered necessary in war-time was more than ever essential in peace-time, when the housing problem was so much more urgent.

Mr. Dixey, the Conservative member for Penrith, moved the rejection of the bill. He described it as a purely Socialistic measure. He agreed that there had been some rise in the cost of building materials, but argued that this was due, not to the greed of the manufacturers, but to the demands of labour for higher wages. There was considerable interruption from the Labour members during Mr. Dixey's speech.

Mr. Herbert Williams also found his remarks ill received when he vigorously denounced State interference with industry.

Mr. Neville Chamberlain, Minister of Health, declined to have anything to do with a bill which he characterised as hopeless. He had no desire to enter into the controversy as to the Socialistic character of the measure. His concern was the building of houses, and if the bill would aid him to do that he would give it every consideration. He was of opinion, however, that it would take effect in the opposite direction to that intended by its supporters. It would tend to restrict production, and so would lead inevitably to a rise in prices.

The bill was rejected by 232 votes to 113.

KNIGHTHOOD FOR NEW JUDGE.

The King has conferred a Knighthood upon Mr. Alexander Dingwall Bateson, K.C., on his appointment as Judge of the High Court of Justice.

BRITISH LOVE OF LIBERTY.

PRINCE'S VISIT TO THE ARGENTINE.

TRIBUTE BY THE PRESIDENT.

SUCCESS OF AFRICAN TOUR.

"We shall receive the representative of a glorious dynasty, of a Government which is a model of good sense and efficacy, and of a people which, through the centuries, has maintained the love of liberty."

PRESIDENT Alvear made this observation at Buenos Aires yesterday at the opening of the session of the Congress, when referring to the forthcoming visit of the Prince of Wales.

The President (adds The Times Correspondent) said that the privileged position the country had won before the world was confirmed by the decision that the Prince should accept their sincere, affectionate hospitality.

"My Government trusts that the Prince of Wales will be afforded unquestionable proof that the people of the Argentine appreciate the value of British friendship—a friendship shown in vigorous contribution to the progress of our country ever since the dawn of our emancipation, and in evidence of confidence in our future, such as the Treaty of Friendship, Commerce, and Navigation, the centenary of which has just been celebrated with mutual rejoicing."

THE PRINCE'S HANDSHAKE.

GRAHAMSTOWN, Friday.

Grahamstown, lying in a delectable valley-land, is one of the most English towns of South Africa, and gave the Prince a rousing welcome. His first function was to shake hands with 525 ex-Service men. He does not seem to mind the fatigue, although he can only use his left hand. People shaking hands with him frequently offer their left in response, but a request has now been made to everybody to give their right hand, as usual.

The Prince afterwards proceeded to Rhodes University, where 300 students of both sexes gave him a rollicking welcome.

He entered a tiny four-wheeler, upholstered in purple, and drawn by 24 students disguised as Zulus, who went through wonderful gyrations, accompanied by yells and weird songs, after which the other students sang their college songs with amazing lung power, but in perfect harmony.

After morning tea, at 11 o'clock—a great institution in South Africa—the Prince toured the town in a motor car. He visited the four colleges, the last being Saint Andrews, which is a great training ground for all athletics, in addition to being the forerunner of Rhodes University. His Royal Highness also addressed two gatherings of natives and coloured folk.—The Press Association Correspondent.

FIGHTING IN MOROCCO.

FRENCH SUCCESSES.

RABAT, Friday.

General Colombat's operations on May 13 at Bibai have profoundly impressed the submitted tribes as well as the Djebala and Beii-Zeroual. The forces engaged by the French troops are estimated at 3,500 rifles. The majority of them were Djebala, but they were strongly supported by Riff elements. The enemy's losses are reported to have been very heavy. The Mghala post was relieved, and a detachment was sent to Ortzag.

During the day of May 13 Colonel Freydenberg, in the centre, attacked the fortified position of Kasba Ben-Ahmed, which was defended by 1,600 Djebala and Riffi. After a severe engagement French troops occupied the enemy's trenches and revictualled the Amzeg post. The enemy's losses were considerable. On the East the Riff contingents, before Kiffan and in the Sakka district, have been strongly reinforced.

AIRMAN KILLED.

Major Mezergue, one of the best French airmen, has died of wounds received in the operations against the Riffis.—(Reuter.)

FRANCE'S DEBT.

M. BRIAND AND M. CAILLAUX TO FIND A SOLUTION.

PARIS, Friday.

With reference to the Cabinet's decision that M. Briand and M. Caillaux, the Foreign and Finance Ministers, should study a possible solution of the question of the inter-Allied debts with the United States Ambassador, it is interesting to note that M. Herriot has recently had successive informal conversations with M. Painlevé, Briand and Caillaux.

The only topic discussed, according to the Temps, was "conditions of a preparatory meeting," at which the official resumption of contact between the French and American Governments on the subject of debts would be considered."

This cryptic phrase would cover the ultimate sending of a French mission to Washington to negotiate with the Debt Funding Commission, which is the procedure it is generally anticipated the French Government will adopt.—(Reuter.)

GERMAN PRISON SCANDAL.

EX-MINISTER'S SUICIDE.

BERLIN, Friday.

Although it was stated at the time that Herr Hoefle, the former Minister of Posts, died a natural death in prison, where he was awaiting his trial in connection with the Barmat scandal, a report now issued by the doctors who made a post-mortem examination of the body states that death was due to the large quantity of narcotics which Herr Hoefle secretly took, obviously with the intention of ending his life.

Investigation by a committee of the Prussian Diet into the treatment meted out to the ex-Minister while in prison has disclosed, it is stated, a deplorable state of affairs, and has shown that the prison doctors did not worry themselves about a man who was manifestly dying. The head doctor has been suspended.—(Reuter.)

POISON GAS BAN.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE FAVOURS AN AGREEMENT.

WASHINGTON, Friday.

It was announced to-day that President Coolidge is in favour of an international agreement for the limitation of the use of poisonous gases in warfare.—(Reuter.)

THE TEAM SPIRIT.

VALUE OF ORGANISED GAMES IN THE SCHOOLS.

When children took part in games they were learning something that could not be learned in the ordinary school classroom, said Dr. Garrett, of the Northern Ministry of Education, at Portadown.

"They are learning," said Dr. Garrett, "what we know of the team spirit, and that is one of the most important things in an organised community. We can't do anything without team work, because nowadays the complexity of life and industry is so great that we all have to play our part.

"This development of the team spirit is one of the things absolutely essential if we in this country are going to make our province and our country a success. Therefore, I hope that as our educational system develops there will be more and more organised games established in connection with elementary schools."

U.S. GENERAL DIES AT A CIRCUS.

COMMANDED 26,000 MEN AT 25.

WASHINGTON, Friday.

While attending the performance of a travelling circus here this afternoon, Lieutenant-General Nelson Miles suddenly dropped dead. Mrs. Coolidge was also among the spectators.—(Reuter.)

General Miles, who was in his 86th year, and retired as far back as 1903, had a long and distinguished career in the United States Army, in which he commanded an army corps of twenty-six thousand men at 25 years of age. He was Senior Officer Commanding, 1895-1903, and commanded the United States Army during the Spanish-American war. He represented the United States at Queen Victoria's Diamond Jubilee in 1897.

AN ANCIENT IRISH MANSION.

BESSBOROUGH HOUSE TO BE REBUILT.

Bessborough House, the residence of Lord Bessborough, which was burned to the ground by armed men in February, 1923, is to be rebuilt, as was revealed during the hearing of the Earl's claim for £100,000 compensation, before Judge Sealy, K.C., at Kilkenny Circuit Court yesterday. The mansion was erected in 1740.

Mr. W. Shannon, K.C., for the applicant, said that he was now able to state that an agreement had been reached in regard to the compensation figures; it was agreed that £32,000 should be awarded for the building and £13,500 for the furniture and contents. The only matter outstanding was a small item of £246 10s. in respect of furniture salved.

Counsel went on to say that upwards of 100 Italian workmen had been employed at Bessborough House in decorative work. The mantelpieces were extraordinarily beautiful, and the ceilings and walls were of such a beautiful kind that they could not be replaced at the moment. There was a beautiful collection of oil-coloured paintings by well-known artists, and the furniture was of original Chippendale.

The Judge—It is impossible to replace that.

Counsel—The money your Lordship would allow would not possibly compensate Lord Bessborough. The members of his family are desirous that they should have a residence in the country. They would be a benefit to the country, and they gave so much employment that they should be encouraged to return as far as possible.

Judge Sealy expressed gratification at the Earl's decision to rebuild the mansion. It was satisfactory that Lord Bessborough's advisers were able to agree as to the figures. Undoubtedly Lord Bessborough had made sacrifices in not pressing for the full amount of his claim. He knew that his fellow-countrymen would have to pay, and he did not want to tax them.

Judge Sealy awarded £13,700 in respect of the furniture and £32,000 for the house; he allowed £700 for architects', auctioneers' fees, etc.

POWDER FACTORY EXPLOSION.

THREE WORKMEN KILLED IN KENT.

Three men lost their lives in an explosion yesterday afternoon at the explosive works of Messrs. Cutis and Harvey, near Faversham, Kent.

Two small isolated press houses were blown to pieces.

A man named Clarke was blown clean over the trees into a mangold worsel field amongst pieces of machinery and woodwork, and was subsequently found by a ploughman, who was planting seeds. Head's body was discovered in the canal, which runs close to the factory, and provides the works with water power.

The first building which exploded was a press house situated on the waterside, and the consequent concussion from this, or a falling piece of debris, caused a second press house to explode. As a result of the concussion and the flying pieces of debris other buildings in the factory were damaged.

The men killed were T. Stevens and J. Head, press house hand, and H. Clarke, boatman, all of Faversham. No one else was involved in the explosion.

A considerable number of men, as well as a few women, were employed at the factory, but those in the first shed made their escape, but the men who were killed worked in the second shed. The reports of the explosion were heard twelve miles away.

A NEGLECTED INDUSTRY.

GOVERNMENT URGED TO HELP FISHERMEN.

A branch of the Irish National Fishermen's Association was formed at a public meeting held in Greystones last night.

Mr. S. E. Pim, in advocating the formation of a branch, said that the first necessity in promoting the industry in Greystones was the repair of the harbour. He deplored the fact that a Government engineer had recently reported that the work would cost a quarter of a million pounds, when in point of fact it could be carried out for £6,000.

Mr. C. Byrne, T.D., urged the need of an organisation which would put pressure on the Government to provide markets and curing stations.

Mr. James Everett, T.D., said that the Irish coast was better adapted for fishing than that of Denmark, but the Government of that country considered the fishing industry as a great national asset and advanced money on favourable terms to the fishermen.

Mr. T. Tuohy, organiser of the Association, remarked that £29,000 was spent annually on the promotion of Irish fishing interests, but only £1,000 a year was actually spent on fostering the industry. The remainder went in salaries. The French Government financed the native fishing industry very substantially, and the Scottish fishermen received £2,000,000 from the Imperial Government last year, but did not spend it all. They in the Free State had good cause for envy.

A PATIENT'S MEDICINE.

SWORN INQUIRY IN ENNISKILLEN.

A sworn inquiry was held in Enniskillen yesterday concerning the case of Dr. J. P. Carraher, who, it was alleged, had shown neglect in his attendance upon a patient named Mrs. Howe.

It was alleged that, although the doctor had promised that medicine would be left for the patient at Lisbellaw Dispensary on January 7th, it was not forthcoming until January 10th, notwithstanding the fact that messengers had been sent for it.

Dr. Carraher explained that when he went to the dispensary on January 7th he found it locked, the caretaker being absent owing to a bereavement. He sent word to the patient that he had a bottle in readiness at Tempo, but no one called for it.

UNEMPLOYMENT IN THE NORTH.

There was a decrease of 518 in the number of persons unemployed in Northern Ireland last week. The number seeking employment was 52,437, of whom 35,702 were men, 15,224 women, 946 boys, and 565 girls. The decrease is due to the termination of the trade dispute in the shipbuilding industry.

John Edward Tooms, 53, a furnace man, of Leeds, was last night engaged at Kirkstall Foundry, when a plate fell out of a melting-pot and two hundredweights of molten metal gushed forth. He was enveloped to the knees and was seriously injured.

SEARCHES BY SOLDIERS.

MYSTERIOUS MOVEMENT IN COUNTY CORK.

BIG AREA SEARCHED.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

CORK, Friday.

There was much excitement in Cork to-day when it was learned that a big encircling movement by troops had been set afoot in the county shortly after midnight on Thursday. Over 1,000 soldiers, working in conjunction with the Civic Guard, are taking part in the operations, which consist of interrogating persons and searching premises in Cork City, Blarney, Whitechurch, Watergrasshill, Fermoy, and other districts.

It is rumoured that shots were fired during the night, but the military authorities are very reticent about the matter. They admit, however, that an operation is in progress, but decline to state its object.

One story has it that the activity is connected with the shooting of unarmed British soldiers who were landing at Queenstown from Spike Island about two years ago.

Rumours reached the city this afternoon that in the course of the search at Watergrasshill two men had been fired at and wounded, but inquiries by telephone established the fact that the report was without foundation. It was also learned that a small party of the military, accompanied by some Civic Guards, had been watching the roads around Watergrasshill since one o'clock this morning.

Information obtained at a later hour showed that the area covered by the movement includes the town of Mallow, and that the police and soldiers, who are stopping and examining all traffic on the roads, are gradually closing in on Carrignavar.

It is stated that in the course of the searches twenty-five men were detained for a time, but all were subsequently released.

The operations were still in progress at a late hour this evening.

"VISIT IRELAND."

JOURNALISTS' TOUR IN THE NORTH

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

BELFAST, Friday.

The party of English, Scottish and Free State journalists, who had been visiting the beauty spots of Northern Ireland, concluded their tour to-day at Belfast, when they inspected two of the city's largest industrial concerns—Messrs. Gallaher's tobacco factory and the York street Flax Spinning Company. At the former they were received by Mr. Thomas Gallaher, J.P., head of the firm, who recently celebrated his eighty-fifth birthday.

Subsequently the party were entertained to lunch by the Lord Mayor (Sir William Turner, J.P.).

After the toast, "The King," had been honoured, the Lord Mayor said that he hoped the journalists would carry back with them pleasant memories of the city and its people.

"Come as often as you can," he said, "for the more you know of us the better you will understand our aims and objects, and appreciate our desire to be worthy and helpful citizens of the Empire."

Responding to the toast of "The Visitors," Sir Basil Clarke, director of publicity for the London Midland and Scottish Railway Company, said that there was more than a mercenary spirit behind the "visit Ireland" movement. It was meant to make the visitor see the country as it is, and not as it was, and there lay underneath that community of motive the surest road towards eventual unity not only of motive, but of action, between North and South. People with a common purpose would have a common mode of procedure, which would be all for the good of Ireland and the people of the world in general. He could assure them that they would find a great ally in his company.

Mr. S. Berkeley, J.P., General Manager of the Belfast Steamship Company, said that for the year 1924 the Liverpool, Glasgow and Ardrossan steamers carried 262,000 passengers, one half of whom were tourists. Their fares were exceptionally attractive. To London from Belfast the excursion fare (saloon and third class) was only 63s., and to London from Portrush 72s. 6d. return, a fraction over a penny a mile. Those figures indicated what the shipping companies were doing to facilitate and attract tourists.

Mr. W. Astle, ex-President of the Newspaper Society, said that they had a delightful time during their tour in Ulster, and had experienced the traditional Irish generosity and hospitality. Visitors to the North would find that "smiling Ulster makes you smile."

A vote of thanks was accorded to the Lord Mayor.

LORD LUCAN'S DEMESNE.

FAILURE OF RACECOURSE PROJECT.

A decree was granted in Castlebar on Thursday to the Earl of Lucan who sued James Horkan, James Haughey, T. M. Wynne, John Fox, and Thomas S. Moclair, members of the Castlebar Race Meeting Committee, to recover possession of his demesne.

It was stated on behalf of the plaintiff that the demesne was let to the defendants at £55 a year, with the option of purchase for £1,500, for the purpose of converting it into a racecourse. It was a condition that a company should be formed within twelve months, and £600 expended in converting the demesne into an up-to-date racecourse. Instead of carrying out the condition, it was alleged, the defendants let the demesne for grazing purposes, and the project of the racecourse never fructified. The period of twelve months had expired.

It was urged for the defence that Lord Lucan had been misinformed as to the facts, and was under the impression that the people of Castlebar were not in favour of the project. Counsel stated several reasons why the company was not formed, and said that the share capital had now been subscribed, the £4,000 being in court.

The judge held that the terms of the agreement had been broken. He gave a decree for possession, and refused an application for a stay of execution. He thought that if a real business proposition was put before Lord Lucan, who was anxious to do what he could for the town, he would consider it favourably.

BEQUEST TO NATIONAL UNIVERSITY.

Mr. William Henry Curran, of Modern Hotel, Monte Carlo, formerly of Meldon House, Granville road, Ilfracombe, and of Sallanches, France, who died on March 20 last, aged 69 years, left property in England of the gross value of £7,269, with net personalty £7,[illegible]2.

The testator left £1,000 and £500 a year to Henrietta Mary Richards, £1,000 to John George McCarthy, and the residue of the property to University College, Dublin, to be known as the "Curran Bequest," the income to be applied for exhibitions and scholarships, tenable by males and females for proficiency in, and the encouragement and study of, the modern Irish language.

VAN DRIVER ROBBED.

John Sullivan, a van-driver, employed by Messrs. Boland, Ltd., bakers, was stopped yesterday afternoon in Kelston avenue, Whitecross, Stillorgan road, by two men (one of whom it is believed was armed) and robbed of about £2.

LATE NEWS.

FRANCE AND THE RIFIS.

SUCCESSFUL CAMPAIGN.

In a leading article The Times observes:—The French are to be congratulated on the marked success of their operations against the Rifis within the last few days. It has followed a series of other successes since the fighting began at the end of April, and, although it is not yet decisive, it confirms the hope already entertained, that the campaign will proceed to its close "according to plan." Mr Chamberlain expressed the general feeling of this country on that campaign when he said in the House of Commons last Monday that "all his sympathy is with the efforts of the French to bring peace to their country and the Colonies, and to protect those under their jurisdiction." They have been subjected to wanton and unprovoked aggression by the Rifis, who undoubtedly are acting with the connivance and the countenance of Abdel Krim, if not on his express commands. An invasion of the French zone by the Rifis has long been foreseen, although the actual irruption at the end of last month seems to have come as a surprise. The position on the border afforded a pretext for such action, and the withdrawal of the Spanish forces presented the opportunity.

There has not been the slightest taint of "militarism" or "Imperialism" in the action or in the attitude of the French. There are all sorts of reasons—international, Parliamentary and financial—why the present Government and its majority should studiously refrain from anything which could be misconstrued as a policy of conquest or of adventure. A few days ago M. Painlevé insisted upon the importance of making the intentions of France clear at home and, "above all," abroad. There must be no question, he said, of a war of conquest. France is remaining within the limits of her mandate, and, "contrary to tendencious rumours," her Government are in complete agreement with Spain and Great Britain. But the invasion must be suppressed, and suppressed with energy. Any other policy would be disastrous to her prestige, not only in Morocco, but in the whole of Northern Africa.

LIQUOR SMUGGLING.

AMERICAN GUARDS DOUBLED.

The Government's new campaign to destroy liquor smuggling has assumed the proportions of a small war, says The Times New York Correspondent. By direction of President Coolidge, the coastguards, Customs officers and Federal Prohibition agents have combined forces, and the guards along all borders have been reinforced. With the dispersal of the "Scotch Armada" off New York Harbour, the blockade has had to be extended from Maine to Galveston. A hundred additional guards, supplemented by New York Constabulary, have been despatched to the Canadian border; the chief Prohibition agent has established his headquarters at the mouth of the Mississippi, and has ordered a hundred patrol boats up the river to break up the illicit distilling and bootlegging on its banks and islands, and the Pacific Coast blockading fleet has been reinforced.

Meanwhile activity on land has been doubled. Yesterday in Philadelphia the Director of Public Safety, who was imported last year from the Marine Corps to clean up that city, suspended forty policemen from duty after a secret investigation had disclosed the fact that about 400 policemen, corrupted by brewery agents, were assisting in the sale and transportation of illegal beer.

Two conspicuous results of the law enforcement campaign are a rise of 50 per cent. in bootleggers' prices for liquor and revived activity of distillers of the so-called "denatured alcohol" used in the manufacture of synthetic gin and whiskey.

DISCOVERY AT SPARTA.

Mr. A. M. Woodward, director of the British School at Athens, reports the discovery on the Acropolis, at Sparta, of the upper half of a life-sized statue in good preservation, and of superb style, portraying a helmeted warrior, and reminiscent of the sculptures from the pediment of the Temple at Ægina, says The Times. The discovery of other fragments is expected.

BALLOON HITS LIVE CABLE.

Telegraphing on Friday, the Paris Correspondent of the Westminster Gazette says:—While sailing over the Lille region to-day a balloon began to drop and the pilot threw out ballast. As the balloon rose it struck a high-tension cable line. There was a flash and the two men on board were burned. The pilot, however, was able to bring down the balloon safely a couple of miles further on. Both men were taken to hospital.

SYNOD NOTES.

(FROM OUR CHURCH OF IRELAND CORRESPONDENT.)

The closing day of the General Synod lacks the interest of those which have preceded it, as it is to a large extent occupied with putting the finishing touches to business that has been shaping itself into final forms. The four motions dealing with alterations in the Prayer Book were withdrawn with the consent of the House. The Rev. D. Hall's motion was passed, as the members present were in great symeathy with his work. The Assessor expressed certain fears if the motion were passed, but the feeling of the House was against him.

* * *

Attention was drawn to the unfavourable acoustic properties of the Hall, but speakers would be heard much more easily if they would discontinue the practice of addressing the Chair instead of the House. Those who face the audience when speaking are heard without difficulty.

* * *

There was a good deal of outspoken criticism of the report of the Church of Ireland Temperance Society and of the report of the Board of Missions. The Bishop of Tuam, in introducing the former, referred with gratitude to the interest which had been shown in the promotion of the cause of temperance by the Governor-General of the Irish Free State and by the Governor of Northern Ireland.

* * *

The ladies in charge of the refreshment rooms are to be congratulated on the way in which they looked after the comfort of the members. In spite of the large numbers present, the service was rapid and satisfactory.

The attendances on the several days were as follow:—

THE GENERAL SYNOD.

HOUSING AS AN INVESTMENT.

MR. HALL'S SCHEME APPROVED.

TRIBUTE TO HIS EFFORTS.

TEMPERANCE AND MISSIONS.

The General Synod of the Church of Ireland, at its meeting in Dublin yesterday, passed a resolution moved by the Rev. D. H. Hall, expressing approval of the 5 per cent. Stock of the St. Barnabas's Public Utility Society as a security in which the Representative Body might be at liberty to invest, if it thought fit.

The object of the resolution was to enable the Representative Body to invest in the Dublin housing scheme initiated by Mr. Hall. The amount he sought was £5,000, which would enable him to complete the scheme. He made it a condition that in return for every £500 invested they might nominate one Church of Ireland tenant for a house. If £5,000 were invested, houses could be provided for ten Church of Ireland families who now live in one-room tenements.

The several speakers who took part in the debate acknowledged the great work that Mr. Hall has done, and said that it was a credit to the Church.

The Synod also adopted a resolution moved by Mr. Twinem, of Portadown, asking the Representative Body to consider the question of allocating such sums of money as they might think advisable for the erection of houses to supply the present need.

The Primate (Most Rev. Dr. D'Arcy) presided.

The ordinary meeting of next year's General Synod was fixed for the 4th of May.

The following bills were read a third time: The Prayer Book Bill; a bill to fix a day from and after which certain statutes of the General Synod shall take effect; the bill for the abrogation of the Commission for Union of Parishes; a bill to extend the duration of the Boards of Nomination (Temporary Suspension) Act, 1920; and a bill to amend that portion of Chapter VII. of the Constitution which applies to the Collegiate and Cathedral Church of St. Patrick.

The Bishop of Tuam moved that the report of the Temperance Society should be received. He said that some had expressed the opinion that they could now do very well without that Society. He did not agree with that, for the Church could not do without an official Temperance Society. They could rescue the Society from the condition into which it had fallen, and, from what he had heard, he believed that the debt would be wiped off in the coming year. They should thank the Government of the Free State for what it had done for temperance, and they all felt that they were under a deep debt of gratitude for the Government's courage and for the way it had handled this matter. (Hear, hear.)

The Archdeacon of Dublin, in seconding the motion, said that they wanted to gather in to help them all who were desirous of promoting the welfare of their land. There was not the same need for the Society as there had been in the past; it was undeniable that intemperance had been reduced, and there was not so much criminality as in former years (hear, hear); but that happy result, so far as it went, was very largely due to the splendid work that had been put in by Temperance Societies in former years. While that was so, everyone knew that there was still an enormous amount of drunkenness, and that there was a very poor public opinion on the subject. They required to educate public opinion, and they regarded the legislation for which they were very thankful, as a promise of better things to come. As they, perhaps, knew, there was a Commission at present sitting on the subject, and he hoped that the result would be a great improvement in legislation for temperance in the Free State. He appealed to the members of the Synod not to stand aloof from the work. It had been a wonder to him that followers of Christ should hold aloof from the Society.

The Rev. J. Browne said that they were all unanimous regarding temperance, but they contributed niggardly and inadequate sums for the work. The position of the Society to-day was that they could not give a salary to an organising secretary; the only thing that they could give him was plenty of sympathy and helpful suggestions. (Hear, hear.)

Canon Hogg said that the North and South could join together in a campaign against Ireland's greatest enemy—strong drink. Although they, in the North, had got nearly everything that they had asked for; they were asking for more. They were asking for local option, and he hoped that the day was not far distant when that would be granted. In the South he was glad to say that they had taken forward steps in closing the public-houses on some of the holidays. In the North they had a certain holiday, the name of which he would not mention, and they would not rest satisfied until they got the public-houses closed on that day. (Laughter and applause.)

The motion was adopted.

BOARD OF MISSIONS.

The Bishop of Killaloe moved the report of the Board of Missions. He said that if they were aware of what was going on in the mission fields at the present time they would not have a record of such sad facts. He attended a meeting in Trinity College that morning, and the three missions—Chota Nagpur, Fuh-Kien and Uganda—in which Dublin University was interested were reported to be all undermanned. The work of missions had not come home to people as it ought. He agreed with the suggestion in the report, that there should be a form of public commissioning of candidates going to the mission field. A solemn Service would be held in the large centres before the candidates were sent out, and that would be a public testimony to their interest in the mission field. (Hear, hear.)

Mr. J. F. Simms seconded the proposal.

The Bishop of Ossory said that twenty years ago, when he worked as a missionary in India, the societies of the various Churches there worked in co-operation. The movement towards reunion of Christendom, which they all desired so much, and for which he hoped that every member of the Synod longed and prayed, received its greatest impetus from the mission field. (Hear, hear.)

The report was adopted, as also was the report of the Widows' and Orphans' Board Fund.

of the Board of Education. He said that they were very anxious to extend Sunday school work, which required to be quickened and strengthened. He referred to the difficulty as to the supply of candidates for training as teachers. An appeal for funds had been issued, and a substantial sum was already in hands.

The Rev. A. E. Hughes seconded.

The Rev. J. C. Lord said that he believed that if it was not necessary for students to be in-students there would be more candidates for training as teachers in primary schools.

Canon Kingsmill Moore said that there was nothing to prevent candidates from living out. Students had occasionally done so, but they did not like it, and they found it very difficult to do their work, besides being more expensive.

The report was adopted.

HOUSING.

THE SYNOD AND MR. HALL'S SCHEME.

The Rev. D. H. Hall proposed that the Synod approve of the Five per cent. Loan Stock of the St. Barnabas's Public Utility Society, Ltd., as a security in which the Representative Body may be at liberty to invest. He said that in the last four years he had raised £78,000 for the purpose of building houses in Dublin, and the scheme was almost complete. In a short time there would be 102 of these houses completed, to do which would take a sum of £8,000, and he expected to be able to get £3,000 of this amount in the bank. The Government told him that they were not in a position to supply any more money, as he had originally got from the British Government £22,500. He would be very grateful if the Synod would now assist him in bringing his scheme to completion, and in assisting him they would be assisting ten Church of Ireland families at present living in single rooms. For every £500 invested they could nominate the tenant of one of the houses. The Great Northern Railway had invested £1,000 on condition that two of their employés should be put into two of the houses, and if that company considered the security good enough, surely the Synod ought to consider it sufficient.

The Earl of Belmore seconded the motion.

Mr. Twinem asked for whom were the houses to be built. If they were not for their own people, he did not think that the Church of Ireland should spend money on building houses.

Mr. Cole Bowen said that it was not a question of spending the money. They were only asked to invest it. The security seemed to him quite a good one.

Mr. Devenish Meares said that he understood that the Representative Church Body could only invest money in trustee securities, and could not go outside them, except with the consent of the Synod.

Lord Glenavy (Assessor) said that under the Constitution the Representative Church Body could invest money in any security approved of by the General Synod. If the General Synod passed the resolution, the Representative Church Body would take it that they were authorised, if they thought fit, to invest in this particular security.

Mr. Devenish Meares said that he was personally in favour of the resolution, but he thought that it would be safer to hold it over till next Synod.

The Archdeacon of Armagh said that a lot depended on what the resolution meant. If it meant that the Synod recommended the Representative Church Body to invest in this security he thought that they should reject it; but if it meant that the Representative Church Body, in their unfettered discretion, without any recommendation to invest, were at liberty to do so, if they thought fit, he did not see any particular harm in it.

A Member—We ought to do everything possible to house the little children properly, no matter to what denomination they belong. (Applause.)

NOW IS THE TIME.

Canon Wilson (Cork)—If the question was adjourned for twelve months, the Government grants would have then disappeared, and Mr. Hall would lose £100 for every house. Now, he added, was the time to do it. (Hear, hear.)

The Dean of Christ Church said that it would be a lamentable thing if the Synod refused to give a sort of approval to this splendid and noble work that was being done by their esteemed colleague, who has set an example to the whole country. (Applause.) People of all denominations had spoken in the highest praise of Mr. Hall, and his work had raised the whole Church of Ireland in Dublin in the esteem of the people. (Hear, hear.) They stood where they never stood before, largely owing to the splendid philanthropic work of the Rev. David Hall. Not only was his example followed in Ireland, but also in England, from which people came to see the good work and get models for their own building schemes; so that his work had been a great credit to the whole Church. (Applause.) He, therefore, thought that Mr. Hall's modest request that the Synod should approve of his splendid work, and give it a help forward to the Representative Church Body, who would deal with it in their unlimited discretion, should be granted; for the least they could do would be to wish him God-speed. (Applause.)

The Archbishop of Dublin said that he had the deepest sympathy with Mr. Hall and his great movement; but his difficulty was that they were the guardians of the finance of the Church. They were asked to approve of this investment, but had anyone present even read the prospectus of the society? He thought that the resolution might be altered to read so as to make it clear to the Representative Church Body that they should satisfy themselves as to this security. The resolution in its present form rather suggested a direction to them.

Mr. J. A. Maconchy expressed the opinion that the resolution, as it stood, was in order. There was no danger in the Synod's using the word "approve." It was the only word in the section that they could use. It was not a direction to the Representative Church Body, who would fully consider the security, and if they thought fit they would invest in it.

Lord Glenavy did not agree that the Synod would be discharging its duty under the Constitution in approving of this or any other security unless they were satisfied it was a safe and sound investment.

Mr. Maconchy said that the Representative Church Body had absolute power, and without coming to the Synod they could invest in common stock, put money in Guinness, or elsewhere, if they so chose

Mr. Shannon proposed as an amendment to the motion the addition of the words, "if it deems fit." He thought that they could agree without any risk whatever to this resolution, which left to the Representative Church Body full discretion. He believed that no greater work than the work Mr. Hall had undertaken had been done for the reputation of the Church of Ireland in Dublin.

The resolution, as amended, was then put and carried by a very large majority.

ANOTHER SCHEME.

Mr. Twinem (Portadown) proposed that the Representative Church Body be asked to consider the question of allocating such sums of money as they might think advisable to a committee of members of the Church for the purpose of erecting houses to supply the present need. He said that his scheme was intended to erect houses throughout Ireland for their own people, and he, as a practical builder, would guarantee to build houses at from £200 to £250 each, consisting of a parlour, kitchen, scullery and two bedrooms, and to let them at from 8s. to 10s. a week.

Canon Archer seconded the proposal. He said that he knew that what Mr. Twinem said he would carry out, because he had experience of him in Portadown. They should get this scheme through before the Governments of the country withdrew the grants.

Colonel Guinness objected to the use of the funds of the Church for building houses. He asked were the houses to be built in the Free State or in Northern Ireland. Would Mr. Twinem come further South than Portadown?

The Rev. J. Browne—If you give him the money he will bring down Portadown to us. (Laughter.)

The motion was passed.

This concluded the business of the Synod.

DUBLIN CIRCUIT COURT.

BLACKROCK HOUSE PURCHASES.

SOLICITOR SENTENCED.

9 MONTHS' IN SECOND DIVISION.

(BEFORE JUDGE DROMGOOLE.)

Charles P. O'Neill, solicitor, was found guilty of having fraudulently converted to his own use two sums of £445, one of £437 and one of £430 received by him last year on behalf of Blackrock Urban District Council. For the defence it was stated that a large sum of money was due to the prisoner from the Council. The jury recommended the prisoner to clemency, and the Judge passed sentence of nine calendar months' imprisonment in the second division, to date from the time of arrest.

Leave to appeal was given.

Mr. Carrigan, K.C. (instructed by the Chief State Solicitor), prosecuted; and Mr. J. V. Nolan-Whelan (instructed by Mr. Charles Murray, solicitor) defended.

Mr. Carrigan, in opening the case, said that a few years ago the Blackrock Council projected a scheme for building a small colony of houses at Temple Hill, Blackrock. The accused, as solicitor to the Council, acted for them in the matter of the scheme, and when the houses were being built there were numerous applicants for them. The Council resolved that these houses should be let on leases to the accepted applicants, subject to a fine. The charges, as mentioned in the indictment, related to four of these lettings.

The accused was not to receive the money in his own name, but was to receive cheques drawn in the name of the Council, which were to be passed by him to the Council. He did not obey that direction. At a special meeting of the Council on the 6th October last he confessed to having received those moneys, and he promised to make them good next day. On the 13th October he resigned his position as solicitor to the Council, and on the 15th October he absconded. A warrant was issued for his arrest, but was not executed until last month, when he was arrested in London.

Mr. John Mooney, Town Clerk, Blackrock, stated that in September last he interviewed Mr. O'Neill, who told him that the delay in payments was due to the purchasers not being in a position to complete the purchase. On October 8 the witness visited Mr. O'Neill's office and received from his assistant a draft for payment for two of the houses.

To Mr. Nolan-Whelan—Mr. O'Neill did a considerable amount of extra Parliamentary work for the Council, and was paid no extra remuneration for this work. Early last year Mr. O'Neill made a claim for remuneration for this extra work. The claim was postponed.

For the defence Mr. Nolan-Whelan called Mr. John R. Hennessy, costs drawer, who was asked what was the amount of costs due to Mr. O'Neill by Blackrock Council.

Mr. Carrigan objected.

Mr. Nolan-Whelan contended that a very substantial sum of money was due to his client by the Blackrock Urban Council, and, as a solicitor, Mr. O'Neill had a right to retain certain sums of money until the amount due to him by the Council was paid.

His Lordship held that any claims against the Blackrock Council were not relevant to the charges which were being investigated.

When the jury had found the prisoner guilty on all counts, the prisoner read a statement alleging that he had been paid an inadequate salary by the Blackrock Council. He expressed regret at the loss of membership of a great profession, which, he said, the verdict would entail, and also at the humiliation and suffering which his wife and large family must endure.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR.

THE FREE STATE FLAG.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

Sir,—In choosing a flag for the Irish Free State we should seek for one which would be acceptable to all parties in the State. The farther we can go back beyond our "unhappy divisions" the better. If Brian Boru had a flag, as described by one of your correspondents, it might serve the purpose. Brian Boru is as much our national hero as St. Patrick is our national saint. The Battle of Clontarf was, perhaps, our greatest effort at national unity and our most glorious battle for national freedom. Its hero lived before the Anglo-Norman invasion divided Irishmen for 750 years.

Ulster has as its banner the "Red Hand" of the great O'Neills. Here is a bond of sympathy between North and South. When in Ulster last summer I questioned many people about it. Few knew its history. I did not find a single person who could tell me what its accompanying motto was (L'ámh Dearg Abú, "The Red Hand to Victory," the battle-cry of the O'Neills). Ulstermen know too much about the Battle of the Boyne and too little about other parts of Irish history. I once asked a woman near Ballymena what was the name of a mountain, of which there was a striking view from her cottage-door. She said that it was Slemish. I then asked her if she knew the name of a famous man who once lived there. She said that she did not. When I told her that it was St. Patrick she confessed that she never heard of him. She was a Presbyterian. Had she been a member of the Church of Ireland, I am sure that she would have known all about him.

Could any of your readers inform me on what authority the "Cross of St. Patrick" was taken to represent Ireland on the Union Jack? If there is any good authority for acccepting it as an Irish national emblem, it would make a good flag, on a blue or green ground, bordered with shamrocks. It is said that green was the colour adopted by the Williamites at the Battle of the Boyne—another link with Ulster. Again, a flag, like our stamps, with the map of Ireland in the centre would serve our purpose. When our recent battle-wounds are healed and we realise the great honour and advantage of our imperial status, we might add, like the other Dominions, the Union Jack in the corner of our national flag. This would be an enormous step towards union between North and South. An invitation to the Prince of Wales to pay us a visit would crown the edifice of national unity. Can Irish Gaels show themselves as generous as the South African Dutch? The problem is the same in both countries—how to reconcile national and imperial loyalties.—Yours, etc.,

FATAL MOTOR EXPLOIT.

TWO MEN KILLED BY STOLEN CAR.

An inquest was held at Stroud yesterday on the bodies of Ernest John Asseter and Rupert Reginald Walters, who were killed through the overturning of a motor car, alleged to have been stolen at Painswick. A verdict of accidental death was returned.

Stanley Mills, of Painswick, said that he saw the car doing sixty miles an hour. He saw it swerve and crash into a fence.

The three survivors of the accident—Frederick Carve, William Gearing and Claude Hunter—were charged afterwards at the police court with stealing a motor wheel from a Painswick garage.

A statement by Hunter was read, in which he said that they left London in a car that they took from a garage, and they visited various towns, and broke into several places. Eventually they reached Painswick. The accident occurred while they were being chased by the police.

The defendants were committed for trial, the question of bail being reserved.

SHANNON ELECTRICITY BILL.

OIREACHTAS WILL HAVE NO POWER TO ANNUL CONTRACTS.

£5,210,000 AUTHORISED.

The chief business in the Dail yesterday was the Committee stage of the Shannon Electricity Bill. The Government tabled ten amendments.

Major Bryan Cooper called attention to the position of existing electricity undertakings, and mentioned that the Government was proposing to sweep away monopolies upon which much money had been spent.

Professor Thrift proposed an amendment to the effect that contracts should be placed on the table in each House of the Oireachtas, and that a resolution of either House should be sufficient to annul them.

The Minister for Industry and Commerce resisted the amendment, and pointed out that no such condition was imposed on other Government contracts.

The amendment was defeated.

The House passed a resolution authorising advances not exceeding £5,210,000 out of the Central Fund for the purposes of the scheme. Money borrowed probably will bear interest at the same rate as the National Loan.

COMBINED PURCHASES.

FINAL STAGE OF THE BILL.

In the Dail yesterday the Deputy Speaker (Mr. P. O'Maille) took the chair at 11.15.

President Cosgrave moved that the fifth stage of the Local Authorities (Combined Purchasing) Bill be passed.

Mr. Johnson said that in one of the newspapers that morning there was a statement attributed to the Minister for Local Government that, in his opinion, the bill would not interfere with any local authority making local purchases unless the price paid was higher than the contract price. They should understand where they stood in the matter, as the bill did not substantiate the statement which the Minister was reported to have made.

President Cosgrave said that the idea underlying the measure was to enable local authorities to purchase commodities at the lowest purchase price, and that there would be sufficient competition for every article required. The rights and previleges of ratepayers in local areas were still secured.

The bill was passed.

CINEMA POSTERS.

On the Report stage of the Censorship of Films (Amendment) Bill,

Professor Magennis moved a number of minor amendments dealing principally with the submission to the censor of film advertising matter. They should, he said, be critical, of the films without going to the length of being puritanical or grand-motherly.

Mr. O'Higgins pointed out that the bill had been prepared in close consultation with the Censor, who was more in touch with the situation than Professor Magennis was, and said that he was satisfied that the measure contained all the safeguards that were necessary. He asked the Dail to say that there was no necessity for the amendments.

Professor Magennis—I, also, as chairman of the Board of Appeal, have been in close consultation with the Censor, and, so far as I am aware, the Censor and I are of the one opinion in regard to the reforms I propose.

That is not so.fOwutheoR,ll.dS(an shrdlu

Mr. O'Higgins—That is not so. I say that quite definitely.

Professor Magennis moved an amendment to prevent the use of any pictorial advertisement, whether as decoration on programme, or as exhibits in the hall or vestibule of a cinema, purporting to reproduce a scene or situation in a film.

Mr. O'Higgins said that the amendment was not necessary.

Professor Magennis said that the section would only hit genuine pictorial reproductions of matter in the film. If an untrue photograph were exhibited the section would not apply, and the person producing it would go scot free. This was a loophole.

Mr. Johnson said all the evils did not come from the exploiter outside the country. They might have the owner of a cinema publishing pictures of an enticing kind purporting to illustrate films. By rejecting the amendment the Minister was going to defeat the end the bill had in view.

The amendment was defeated by 29 votes to 18

ALLOTMENTS.

A bill to facilitate the acquisition and maintenance of allotments and common pasturage, and for purposes connected therewith, was introduced by Deputy Johnson, and read a first time.

On the second reading of the Acquisition of Land (Reference Committee) Bill, Mr. Burke, Minister for Local Government, said that the bill proposed to reconstitute the Committee appointed under the Acquisition of Land (Assessment of Compensation) Act, 1919. Under that Act, where a local authority was authorised to acquire land compulsorily, and a dispute arose as regards compensation, a Reference Committee, with power to appoint an arbitrator, could be appointed. The Committee would now perform that function, and would also deal with financial matters.

The second reading was passed.

SHANNON SCHEME.

QUESTION OF INTEREST ON LOAN.

The House went into Committee on the Shannon Electricity Bill, to which twenty amendments appeared on the order paper. One was by Professor Thrift, nine by Major Bryan Cooper, and the rest by Mr. Duggan, on the part of the Minister for Industry and Commerce.

President Cosgrave first moved the necessary financial resolution authorising the payment out of the Central Fund of advances up to £5,210,000, to defray (a) the expenses incurred in carrying the Act into effect, and (b) the charge of the principal and interest of any securities issued for the purpose of borrowing under the Act.

Major Bryan Cooper asked whether any estimate had been made or any agreement entered into as to the rate of interest that the loan would bear.

President Cosgrave said that there was no definite information on that point. He took it that the interest would bear a very close relation to that of the National Loan.

The resolution was passed.

The House accepted the first Government amendment defining the expression "local authority," as a county council, a county or other borough council, an urban district council, or the commissioners of a town. In the bill a local authority was defined as a body whose accounts are audited by an auditor of the Minister for Local Government.

Mr. Burke, Minister for Local Government, explaining the necessity for the amendment, said that, as the bill stood, Alexandra College would come under the definition, because its accounts were audited by his department.

Major Bryan Cooper remarked that the fact that already there were ten Government amendments to the bill did not prove that it was well drafted.

EXISTING UNDERTAKINGS.

Section 2 authorises the Minister to undertake the production, distribution and supply of electricity.

Major Bryan Cooper moved an addition to the Section to provide that the Minister shall not supply or distribute electricity in any area in which a local authority or public company has obtained statutory powers to enable it to supply and distribute electricity, and in which such local authority or public company is actually supplying and distributing electricity at the time of the passing of the Act, without the consent of the said local authority or public company, which assent shall be notified to the Oireachtas.

He said that the amendment was intended to draw attention to the position under the Act of existing companies supplying electricity mainly for lighting purposes. There was one form of electricity undertaking in the country which, so far, in the discussion of the bill had received little or no consideration. All through there seemed to be general acquiescence in the idea that existing undertakings would take their electricity from the Shannon supply and cancel all their contracts for coal and other arrangements for supplies. A very different story would have been heard had the Dublin Corporation been in existence, but there were Commissioners in Dublin, and consequently silence.

LOST MONOPOLY.

Private undertakings had incurred great expense, including the cost of the promotion of private bills in Westminster to obtain their statutory monopoly for the supply of electricity in their areas. Now, by a stroke of the pen that monopoly was to be taken from them. A State-aided scheme was to be set up in opposition to them, and they had to take the Shannon current at the Minister's terms or face that ruinous competition supported by the revenues of the State. That raised a very serious issue that had not been fully foreseen; for it rendered null and void the rights conferred by a private bill.

Was the Government going to say to existing companies and municipalities: "Your rights are valueless. The State supersedes you!"

MINISTER'S VIEW.

Mr. McGilligan said that the amendment would mean that existing companies and local authorities were never to be superseded, and that people were to be excluded from having cheap power if it could be produced, and that, no matter how inefficient or extravagant an existing undertaking might be, they would have no power to make them take their supplies from the Shannon undertaking at a less cost than they could produce it.

As to the displacement of labour, was it meant that if the Shannon scheme abolished the necessity for the importation of coal, that the labour employed in that industry should always be employed?

Mr. Hewat pointed out that under the scheme they could produce power at any price. Whether they were making twenty shillings in the pound or not was immaterial to them.

Mr. Morrissey opposed the amendment, which, he said, would not allow interference with a company no matter how inefficient it might be. There must be some safeguard for the consumer.

Major Cooper said that there was nothing to prevent the State undertaking from underselling existing companies until they went out of business, and then putting up the price of power to the consumer.

Mr. Gorey said that the amendment would create a close corporation—a preserve which nobody dare invade.

Major Cooper—Deputy Gorey is in favour of eviction!

Mr. Gorey—Call it anything you like. If the existing companies meet with competition they will have to put up with it.

Major Cooper said that if the Minister would consider any means of avoiding the danger that he had mentioned—that of competition with local bodies—he would withdraw his amendment.

Mr. McGilligan said that the present cost of supply to Rathmines was fourpence per unit, and unless Rathmines agreed they could not get a supply from the Shannon scheme at .55 of a penny per unit. He did not call that a safeguard, except a safeguard for "profiteering" and mismanagement.

Major Cooper withdrew the amendment.

The Minister accepted the principle of an amendment moved by Major Cooper, providing for the erection of dwellinghouses and canteens for the workmen who would be engaged on the scheme.

THE CONTRACT.

In Sub-Section 2 of Clause 3 the Minister is empowered to enter into contracts and agreements for the carrying out of the scheme.

Professor Thrift moved an amendment to add to the sub-section the words:—"Provided that the terms of every such contract or agreement proposed to be made by the Minister shall be laid before each House of the Oireachtas at least one month before it shall come into force, and if both such Houses' shall, within the next twenty-one days on which either House has sat after these terms have been laid before both Houses, pass resolutions annulling such contract or agreement, it shall be annulled, but such annulment shall not prejudice or invalidate any matter or thing previously done in connection with such contract or agreement."

He said that the object of his amendment was to make the scheme as good as possible, and to secure the public confidence by every possible publicity for everything appertaining to it. The Dail should not hand over complete and absolute control of the contract without being aware of its terms.

Mr. McGilligan said that the amendment introduced a principle which hitherto had not been accepted by the Dail, the principle that the terms of a contract for Government work should be submitted to the House for discussion. Every year the Board of Works and the Post Office, between them, entered into contracts amounting to one and a quarter million pounds, and no one ever asked that the details of those contracts should be laid on the table of the Dail.

Mr. Hewat remarked that the Board of Works would not enter into a new contract without coming to the Dail for authority.

SEEKING AUTHORITY.

Mr. McGilligan said that was exactly the type of authority that he asked for in the bill, the authority that all the spending departments got from the House. It seemed to him incredible that it would be expected that deputies and senators should get the details of a contract before them, and discuss whether this or that method of doing any part of the work was the correct method. People talked about public confidence as if he were withholding something. The only thing that he withheld was a small booklet containing a long list of the prices.

Professor Thrift said that deputies had nothing before them on which to form an estimate of the whole scheme. They had not seen the actual plans, and were not in a position of knowing what was going to be done.

The Minister said that they had a project supervised by expert engineers, and a Minister responsible to Parliament for it. Were the details of a highly technical character to be subjected to the scrutiny of deputies and senators? The idea of the amendment might be sound, but if it were carried out there would be no start on a Shannon scheme for a couple of years.

A CONTRACTOR'S PROPOSAL.

Mr. Good said that they were not dealing with an ordinary departmental contract, such as those referred to by the Minister. When the Board of Works made a proposal it was carried through to a contract by engineers whom they knew and in whom they had confidence. The present was not an engineer's proposal, but a contractor's proposal, and it was not to be carried out on a competitive estimate. The passing of the bill would authorise the Minister to enter into a contract without the House seeing the documents.

Mr. Good added that all they asked was that before they passed the bill the Minister should give the Dail an opportunity of inspecting the documents in connection with it. The action of the Ministry in withholding these documents was engendering suspicion.

Mr. McGilligan said that he admitted that it was an unusual proposal, but it had by its very nature to be so. When the contract was made it would be subject to modification by Government engineers, and at that point it assumed the same character as a contract made by any Government Department, say, the Board of Works or the Post Office.

It had been said that the Government had been made enthusiastic about the scheme, but if members had read the White Paper they would have seen that the firm had had, if anything, a chilling reception from the Government. By not asking some firm of engineers to submit plans the Government had saved £125,000 in consultation fees. This firm had brought forward the project to the point of achievement, and it was not right that costs should be thrown open to combined cut-throat competition, and it was not going to be done.

On a poll the amendment was defeated by 35 votes to 11.

Progress was reported, and the House adjourned at 4.30 until 3 o'clock next Tuesday.

FELLOWSHIP OF WOMEN.

COLLEGE GRADUATES IN CONFERENCE.

THE INTERNATIONAL FEDERATION.

There was a large meeting of university women in the Regent House, Trinity College, Dublin, yesterday, when the inaugural meeting was held of the newly-formed Irish Federation of University Women; and Mrs. Caroline Spurgeon, Professor of London University, head of the English Literature section of Bedford College, and Vice-President of the International Federation of Women Graduates, delivered an informative address on the history of the Federation.

Representatives were present from Dublin University, Queen's University, Belfast, as well as from the three Colleges at Dublin, Cork and Galway of the National University of Ireland.

THE IRISH ORGANISATION.

The Vice-Provost of Dublin University, Dr. L. C. Purser, who presided, extended a cordial welcome to their visitors, and expressed his great pleasure at seeing representatives present from the three Universities in the country. In particular, he welcomed those from Qqueen's University, Belfast, and from the Galway, Cork and Dublin Colleges of the National University.

Miss Purser, Secretary of the Dublin University Women Graduates' Association and Acting Secretary of the Irish Federation, explained that the movement had really had its origin with the Dublin University Women Graduates' Association, formed in 1922. In 1923 the movement had been taken up in Belfast, and last year they had applied, and had been affiliated members of the International Federation of University Women. The purpose of the organisation was to promote understanding and friendship between University women of all nations of the world, thereby developing sympathy and mutual helpfulness between all countries.

They had already a membership of 400, but had every prospect of increasing that figure.

The Hon. Secretary of the Association of Queen's College (Belfast) Women Graduates said that in her Association they had 150 members.

WORLD LEAGUE OF WOMEN.

Miss Caroline Spurgeon said that the International Federation was a League of Women all over the world. There were now in it twenty countries, linked together by a common experience and by common aims. Their common experience was that invaluable asset which they acquired from their University—not a degree, but the understanding and dispassionate mind that by sheer force of its own conviction was tolerant of the convictions of others. There was nothing that the world needed more to-day than the training and exercise of the understanding mind, and it was because the International Federation of University Women believed that the University men and women of the world held within themselves the key to international friendship that they had unquenchable hope in the future. Their common aim was that by personal intercourse between the women graduates themselves, understanding and friendship would be promoted between the nations they represented.

Reduced to simple terms, the Federation was a Society of Associations of educated and thoughtful people in many countries banded together in a determined effort to substitute, as far as possible, and whenever and wherever possible, mutual knowledge, sympathy and confidence for the ignorance, jealousy and suspicion, which too often characterised international relations.

The Federation was now organising facilities for the exchange of students and teachers between the different countries. They were also establishing club houses and centres of hospitality in all great cities of the world; and were also instituting Fellowships. Their head office in London was in touch with the leading people in various countries to get information as to possible openings for work. In London they had acquired the Old Crosby Hall on Chelsea Embankment, which they proposed to convert into a club house for post graduate women of distinction from all countries, with a good sprinkling of English and Irish. Club houses were already in existence in Washington, New York and Paris. And they would shortly have such centres also in Athens and Rome.

THE FIRST FELLOWSHIP.

In England they had made a start with the Fellowship scheme—the first fellowship, value £300, being won by a Swedish archæologist. America had more than one such fellowship; so had Sweden, and now Italy had offered a fellowship for six months. The Federation had started out to raise a million dollars fund to endow fellowships. The first contribution to that fund was a gift of 2,000 kronen, given last year by a group of old University students in Christiania. These fellowships were sorely needed by women leaving College. Many of these had to take up work at once, and were unable to return to their higher research work.

The Federation hoped to open up facilities for developing and training women, and so to widen their experience that they would be gradually more fitted to take their place in the management of world affairs. She would like to see more University women going into big business, into international trade and commerce.

The distinguishing characteristic of their movement was that they were international—they were not an educational body, nor were they feminists. Their intention was to gather information from different countries; to bring the points of view of other countries to bear upon their work, and in the light of that illumination conduct their problems for the good of the whole, so far as they possibly could. (Applause.)

On the motion of Miss Noel Ffrench (D.U.), seconded by Miss Graham (Queen's University), a vote of thanks was passed to Miss Spurgeon.

Members of Council:—Miss Fitzgerald, B.A.; Miss Hunter, B.A.; Miss Gardner, M.B., B.Ch.; and Miss Moran, LL.D.

A COUNTY WEXFORD ASSAULT CASE.

REMARKABLE EVIDENCE.

In the Wexford Circuit Court, before Judge Doyle, on Wednesday last, Thomas Kenny, of Brideswell; John Reddy, of Raheen; and Michael O'Toole were charged with having on the 15th April last, when masked and armed, entered a gate lodge at Canew and assaulted and threatened a labourer named Moses Mernagh.

Mr. T. J. Kelly, State Solicitor, prosecuted, and Mr. J. R. Brennan defended the accused men.

Mernagh stated that he lived alone in the lodge. On the night of April 15th, at 12 o'clock, there was a knock at the door of his house, and he was told that if he did not open it it would be burst open. When he opened the door two masked men made him put up his hands, ordered him from the house, and put him against a wall. The man Kenny asked him "did he know that he was going to be plugged." He was taken back into the lodge and asked if he knew anything about the burning of Mrs. O'Toole's bog. He said that he knew nothing about it. A revolver was put into his mouth and he was ordered down on his knees. He was asked whether he was a spy and an informer to the Guards and he said "No." Kenny, on going away, told him that if he informed the Guards of what had happened he would be "plugged."

Mr. Brennan, for the defence, pointed out that the indictment fixed the date of the offence as the 15th, whereas the witness for the State swore in the District Court that it was the 8th April.

The jury in the circumstances were directed to find a verdict of not guilty.

The accused men were discharged and were re-arrested on leaving the court.

DUBLIN AND THE PROVINCES.

DUBLIN.

Philharmonic Choral Society—The members of the Dublin Philharmonic Choral Society will give their inaugural concert in the Metropolitan Hall to-night, at 8 o'clock, when they will render Vaughan Williams' "Mass in G Minor" for the first time in Ireland, and Granville Bantock's "Pageant of Human Life." The choir, consisting of two hundred voices, will be conducted by Mr. Turner Huggard. There will be solos by Madame Borel, Miss K. Maureen (late of the Beecham Opera Company), Mr. John Gill, and Mr. J. C. Doyle, with Mr. T. H. Weaving at the piano, and violon solos by Master Arthur Franks.

Loreto College Concert.—An enjoyable concert was given by the pupils of Loreto College, St. Stephen's Green, on Thursday evening. The outstanding features on a very varied programme were the orchestral and choral items, under the direction of Mr. T. H. Weaving.

Railwaymen's Ambulance Class.—A provisional committee has been appointed by employés of the Great Southern Railway (Dublin and South-Eastern section) to arrange a railwaymen's ambulance class, under the auspices of the St. John Ambulance Brigade. A general meeting will be held at Westland Row Station next Thursday at 8 p.m.

CONNAUGHT.

Unsigned Court Document.—The judge at Castlebar on Thursday said that the Attorney-General had confirmed the Court's action in discharging certain prisoners who had been committed for trial because the committal orders had not been signed by the District Justice. In a number of civil appeals where the notice of appeal was not signed by the appellant Judge Wyse-Power held that the cases were not before him, and refused to deal with the appeals.

LEINSTER.

Farm Compensation Case.—Kilkenny Circuit Court on Thursday awarded £100 to Mrs. Ellen Quinlan, Mullinakill, Tullogher, New Ross, for the loss of her son, Peter, who died as the result of injuries received while in the employment of Stephen Walsh, farmer. The boy was milking a cow when the animal lashed out with its tail, and struck him on the nose, which was scratched. He was subsequently spreading superphosphate manure, and, according to medical evidence, the artificial manure got into the boy's system, either through scratches or under the finger nails, causing general blood-poisoning.

Wexford Appeals.—The judge at Wexford yesterday reversed a decree granted by a district justice to Wexford Corporation, who sued the President of St. Peter's College for £5 13s. 7d. rates alleged to have been due on premises in Waterloo road, Wexford. The conviction of John Druhan, New Ross, for assaulting Joseph Jeffares, Rochestown, in a public-house was confirmed, but the sentence of six months' imprisonment reduced to eight days.

Tullamore Train Service.—Judge Wakely remarked at Tullamore yesterday that he was glad to hear that a meeting of protest against the inadequate railway service had been held. Tullamore was one of the most important and best business towns in Ireland. It was only fifty miles from Dublin; yet the time of the arrival of the first train from the city was 11.18 a.m., and the last train from Tullamore to Dublin left at 3.15 p.m. This was perfectly absurd; they were entitled to better railway arrangements.

Pigeon's Homing Instinct.—Mr. Robert Lecky, St. Mark's, Clondalkin, Co. Dublin, is taking care of a stray carrier pigeon, marked U.F. 12378 and other figures. The bird is at liberty. The same bird took up its quarters at Mr. Lecky's house two years ago, and efforts were made to find the owner, but without success. A few months later the bird flew away.

Restitution.—It was reported to the judge at Tullamore that John Sammon and Matthew Delaney, who had been convicted of forging the signatures of road workers to whom County Council orders were payable, had repaid the amounts thus fraudulently obtained. The judge said that under the circumstances the defendants would be discharged.

Publican's Appeal.—At Tullamore Circuit Court on Thursday, Michael McGinn, publican, Tullamore, appealed from a District Court fine of 20s., with endorsement of licence, for selling whiskey 28½ u.p., the legal limit being 25. The judge allowed the defendant the benefit of the Probation of Offenders Act.

Police Sergeant Vindicated.—A Wexford jury found Sergeant Patrick Hurley, of the Gorey force, not guilty of embezzling a postal order for five shillings received for a gun licence.

Rosslare Golf Club Licensed.—A licence to sell drink in the new clubhouse has been granted to the Rosslare Golf Club. The police opposed the application.

NORTHERN IRELAND.

Comedy of Workhouse Suit.—Dungannon Board of Guardians informed the Cookstown Guardians (the Unions being amalgamated) that a patient from Cookstown Union left Dungannon Workhouse on the recent election day to vote and had not returned. He took with him a suit of workhouse clothes, and the amount would be charged against the Cookstown Union unless the clothes were returned. Cookstown Guardians wrote to ask why the man was not given his own clothes before he left Dungannon, and added that they refused to pay. The Clerk told a meeting of the Dungannon Board yesterday that the man arrived in Dungannon wearing only a shirt. The letter was marked "submitted."

Belfast Man's Appointment.—Mr. James McDowell, formerly general manager of Messrs. Lever Brothers, who has been appointed a vice-chairman of the company, is a native of Belfast, and is a nephew of the late Sir Alexander McDowell, a Belfast solicitor.

The Late Mr. Massey.—The Lord Mayor of Belfast received the following cablegram yesterday from Sir Francis Bell, leader of the New Zealand Executive Council, in reply to the Corporation's message of sympathy on the death of Mr. Massey:—"Government deeply appreciate kind sympathy of Belfast in our great loss."

Irish Society Agent.—The Honourable the Irish Society, London, has appointed Captain W. A. Lane, M.C., solicitor, Limavady and Londonderry, as Solicitor and General Agent in Ireland in succession to Mr. E. M. F. G. Boyle, deceased. Mr. Lane was the late Mr. Boyle's partner.

Silent Valley Strike.—Eighty masons and fifty locomotive and steam engine drivers employed on the Silent Valley Reservoir works are on strike to enforce a demand for higher wages.

Dungannon Rural Councillor.—Mr. Samuel Watson, Caledon, has been co-opted a member of Dungannon Rural Council and Dungannon Regional Committee in succession to the late Mr. W. J. Marshall.

ADULTERATED MILK.

WHY MINISTER REDUCED FINES.

We have received a copy of a letter which the Secretary of the Ministry of Justice has sent to the Dublin County Council, explaining the circumstances in which the Minister reduced the penalties imposed on John Gore, Ballymount, Crumlin, who was convicted on three charges of selling adulterated milk, from £40 and £3 costs to £3 and £2 2s. costs.

The Minister's action (as reported in our issue of yesterday) was discussed at a meeting of the Dublin County Council on Thursday.

The letter states that Gore sent a petition to the Minister, asking for time to pay the fines, and his plea was supported by his wife, who said that he was in delicate health and had a young family to support. The Minister sent the petition to the District Justice who heard the case, and the latter obtained a police report as to the means and health of the petitioner. The police reported that Gore was in failing health and had been so for a considerable time; that he was an old man, with three young children; that he lived in a labourer's cottage, with the usual half acre of land, and kept four milch cows; that he sold the milk to a dairyman, and, after paying for hay, grains, etc., had very little profit.

In forwarding this report to the Minister, the Justice said that the further facts obtained by the police rendered the levying of the original fines quite hopeless, and that if he had known all the circumstances when he heard the case the inflicting of such substantial penalties would have been out of the question. Gore's state of health made him unfit for imprisonment. He recommended that Gore should be required at once to pay the sum of £2 2s., and to pay the sum of £3, being the fine on each summons, and that the police should allow time for the payment of the latter sum.

The letter says that the Minister merely gave formal effect to the Justice's recommendations, and adds:—"The Minister fully appreciates the necessity of availing to the full of any legal remedies against persons who deliberately adulterate milk, and who, apart from the intrinsic injustice of their acts, are guilty of very special injury to children, and he would be very much concerned to ensure that no administrative act of his should weaken the work of the Council in their enforcement of the provisions of the Food and Drugs Acts; but he is satisfied that in all the circumstances of the present case he had no reasonable alternative to following the Justice's recommendations, and he feels sure that the Council will agree, when they have the full facts before them, that the action taken was the reasonable administrative course to adopt."

COWKEEPERS' DISCLAIMER.

During the discussion of Gore's case at the Finance Committee of the County Council, Mr. Walsh said that "the Cowkeepers' Association had a fund, out of which it paid all penalties imposed on members in cases of this nature.

The Secretary of the Dublin Cowkeepers' and Dairymen's Association asks us to publish the following:—

"This Association has not at any time paid any of the costs or penalties in cases where any of their members have been convicted. Upon conviction, such member ceases to have any claim upon the Association. No person convicted of any such offence is eligible for membership of the Association. The Association imposes upon its members the obligation to warrant the milk they sell 'to be pure as when milked from the cow, without any abstraction of any kind or any addition thereto.'"

HON. PATRICK C. KINNAIRD GRANTED A DIVORCE.

In the Divorce Court, London, yesterday Mr. Justice Swift granted the Hon. Patrick Charles Kinnaird, of Arlington street, London, a brother of Lord Kinnaird, a decree nisi against his wife, Margaret Stella Kinnaird, whose maiden name was Wright, on the ground of her misconduct with a man not named at the Waldorf Hotel in December last.

The suit was undefended.

RESCUED FROM GUARDS.

MANY CHARGES AGAINST ENNISCORTHY MAN.

David Reck, Milehouse, Enniscorthy, was committed for trial by a local court on Thursday on charges of rescuing a prisoner from the custody of the Civic Guards, assaulting the Guards, having a revolver unlawfully in his possession, intimidating a man to drive the prisoner and others to Palace East railway station, and stealing shirts and groceries from a Rathnure shop.

It was alleged that the prisoner, with another man, boarded a train at Palace East railway station, threatened to shoot guards who were escorting a prisoner, Patrick Ryan, to Waterford Prison, and effected a rescue. Ryan had been committed for trial on a charge of trying to compel a man to leave the country, under penalty of death. It was further alleged that the prisoner assaulted two Guards.

Reck was also charged with compelling Michael Furlong, Rathfarden, under threats to shoot, to drive the prisoner and other men to Palace East station. Other charges related to visits paid to Conran's shop, Rathnure, in December, 1922, and January and February, 1923, when it was alleged that the prisoner, with other men, took shirts and groceries.

Reck appeared before the court under a strong military guard.

CO. LEITRIM RESCUE.

ATTACK ON CIVIC GUARDS RECALLED.

Charged at Carrick-on-Shannon yesterday with rescuing a prisoner named John McPadden from a lorry near Drumkeeran, County Leitrim, on the 25th April, 1924, and with shooting at Sergeant Corry and Guard Jennings with intent to murder, Louis Ward, Acres, Drumkeeran, and Michael Gillooly, Arigna, County Roscomon, were returned for trial to the next High Court in County Leitrim.

Ward was allowed out on bail of £1,000 and two sureties of £500 each. Gillooly, who, it was said, had been "on the run," and had tried to escape when arrested, was ordered to be kept in custody.

The Guards gave evidence of being held up by three masked men, one of whom carried a Lee-Enfield rifle, another a shot gun, and the third a revolver. The man with the rifle fired two shots and the second man fired one. These men the Guards identified as the prisoners Ward and Gillooly.

McPadden, against whom there is a charge of firing into a house, has never been traced.

NORTHERN AMUSEMENT CATERERS.

A NEW ASSOCIATION.

At a largely-attended meeting in the Imperial Picture House, Belfast, yesterday of proprietors and managers of theatrical, variety, and cinema establishments in Belfast and Northern Ireland, endorsement was given to a proposal for the formation of an organisation to be known as "The Amusement Caterers of Northern Ireland," and the new Council was elected.

Alderman Barron, who presided, said that they had reached a time in their business when it was necessary for all in it to stand shoulder to shoulder. Referring to the recent statement of the Northern Minister of Finance regarding the entertainments tax, the Chairman said he joined issue with Mr. Pollock when he said that the remission of the tax would not be handed back to the public. Many of the houses in Belfast, he said, had never put on the tax, and it was a fact that in Northern Ireland amusement caterers were called on to pay 25 per cent. of their gross earnings on all prices up to and including 6d.; on admission between 7d. and 1s. they paid 50 per cent., and on prices between 1s. and 1s. 3d. 33½ in excess of the tax imposed on other parts of the United Kingdom.

The Chairman added that when they waited on Sir James Craig he met them very fairly and was most sympathetic, and asked them to come back and see him in October, when they might get some relief.

The Rev. Dean Owen, who was born at Twickenham (Middlesex) and educated at Eastbourne College, has been elected Bishop of Niagara.

IRISH ENGINEERS.

DISCUSSION ON ROAD PROBLEM.

FINANCE DIFFICULTY.

Addressing the annual conference of the Municipal and County Engineers' Association, which was held yesterday at 35 Dawson street, Dublin, Mr. S. Murphy, one of the Commissioners in charge of Dublin City, said that the exchange of views by engineers was of exceptional importance at a time when such a keen interest was taken in the problem of the roads.

There was for their consideration the project of the reconstruction of the great trunk roads from Dublin to different parts of the country, on all of which the Ministry for Local Government threw an eye of watchful interest. In the City of Dublin a complete change was coming over the face of the streets. Once they were rough and unwashed; now they were fairly well groomed and sleek. So very important was the road question that the Commissioners of the Dublin County Borough, while conscious of their duty to bring relief to harassed ratepayers, budgeted for a greater sum for road construction this year than was allowed for in the previous year. Fortunately, it had been possible to give relief and to provide for a more ample road budget.

He was sure that as the result of the engineers' discussions and interchange of views and enthusiasm for their work, Irish citizens would not hesitate to invite comparison of their cities with those of any other country in the world. He knew that they had hope and confidence in their country. He shared that hope and confidence with them, and they were the big things that were needed at the moment.

CHAIRMAN'S ADDRESS.

Mr. J. F. Delany, formerly City Engineer for Cork, who presided, extended a cordial welcome to the visitors from across Channel, Mr. Willis, Vice-President of the Association, and Dr. Robinson, hon. secretary. He said that these gentlemen had come at no little inconvenience, and their presence was evidence of the importance that was attached by headquarters to the Institution's welfare and interests in Ireland, and to the policy of consolidation of their particular branch of the engineering profession.

Since the last occasion on which he presided at a conference such as that the country had worked itself into a condition of general composure, and there was a prevailing eagerness to improve economically and socially. Ambitions and ideals for public well-being were now rapidly taking shape, and the Governments were initiating and inspiring improvements which would put a new aspect on their municipal administration and ensure a higher national status, and bring about a complete renaissance in citizenship and in higher lines of thought and achievement in public service.

NEW SIGNIFICANCE.

Mr. Delany went on to say that the requirements of modern transport had given the road a significance in national life that was never before attached to it.

The road question is now out of the quagmire of disabilities into which it had lapsed, and the recent announcement by the Free State Government of a trunk road policy, accompanied by an encouraging subvention, was only another example of its lively progressive sense, if only it had a clear field, unencumbered by harrassing financial disabilities and a congestion of other more pressing national obligations.

A subvention, however, of 1½ millons to road improvement would make no impression to speak of, and one wondered to what extent the Local Councils could supplement their respective shares to that figure so as to make some impression on the roads and make them an expression of the fitness of these bodies to hold office in Local Government affairs.

It must be remembered that the vast bulk of the criticism of present day road conditions arose from the methods of maintenance and systems of upkeep, or one of them. It must be remembered that there was more in the road problem than the surface, and more in the surface problem than its first construction. Its upkeep was of no less importance. The ideal form or forms of treatment were not yet in general vogue. It was all a question of finance, and not until Local Councils were rehabilitated as to rating assessment and collection, and the Government could give liberal subsidies, could road conditions in Ireland be brought to perfection. One important matter which must receive attention was the necessity for uniformity of policy and of general co-ordination and co-operation between adjoining counties on road matters.

MAIN HIGHWAYS.

A thorough system of arterial highways should be laid out. Main roads constructed in the most up-to-date fashion were necessary between the chief towns and possible industrial centres, and the work of construction and maintenance should receive liberal financial and administrative aid from the Government as and when it can be afforded.

Among the problems which the Government and local authorities had to consider were:—Formation of new routes; new connecting roads to serve as "short circuits"; straightening out of tortuous thoroughfares, urban and rural; cutting off sharp angles, bends and dangerous corners; flood prevention on existing roads which were subject to inundation; improving by widening, etc., roads, bridges, where necessary; systematic sign posting.

Mr. Delany spoke of the superiority of the bituminously surfaced road, and said that, if progress was to be made with good-class roads, funds and trials, experiments and general technical investigation ought to be put upon a national basis.

SANITARY SURVEY.

One outstanding necessity in local life in Ireland which had yet to receive concentrated attention and an intensive campaign was the teaching of public and domestic hygiene through the rapid enforcement of the sanitary laws.

The sanitary conditions of Ireland should be investigated by a commission of experts in local affairs in a systematic fashion, in the light of the standards of modern public and domestic sanitation, as required by the existing Public Health laws and by the various codes of by-laws supposedly in force under those Acts, and a conspectus of the conditions should be issued, giving evidence and an advisory report resulting from a national inquiry affecting every city, town, village and district in the country.

It was regrettable to have to record that there was no legislation yet enacted in Ireland on the important subject of town planning. The Institute of Architects had submitted a draft bill to the Free State Government, and it would be of decided national advantage if its enactment could be achieved.

A vote of thanks was accorded Mr. Murphy and Mr. Delany.

CHANCE FOR ALL.

Mr. Willis, Vice-President of the Association, in associating himself with it, said that he had to express the sincere regret of the President of the Institution at being unable to be present. He hoped that every Irish engineer would believe that he had just as much chance of being President if he were an energetic and capable man, as any other engineer in England, Wales or Scotland. It was not a political institution.

Mr. M. J. Buckley read a paper, in which he referred to the prospects of the Shannon scheme and the many profitable purposes to which the electric power to be produced could be applied, for the common benefit, if the price of current were sufficiently low. He was sure it would be so within three years, and the Municipal and County Engineers would be the first to welcome the boon. He also said that the present system of cleaning streets in dry weather was wrong in principle. It should be done by means of electric suction machines, as was done in America.

A vote of thanks was accorded to Mr. Buckley and the proceedings ended.

VICAR FOUND SHOT DEAD.

The Rev. Charles Brown, Vicar of St. Mary's, Ramsey, Hants, who had been ill for some time, was found shot in the head on his lawn yesterday afternoon. He was aged 54.

U.S. MARKETS.

STRONG CLOSING OF STOCKS.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAMS.)

NEW YORK, Friday.

Stocks opened irregular, but there was subsequent vigorous rise in all stocks, the outcome of an advance of 3 to 8 points in high-priced issues and the revival of buying of Public Utilities. Merchandise shares, Railroads, Mack Truck, American Can, General Electric, U.S. Cast Iron Pipe and Sears-Roebuck were the strongest, on rumours of recapitalisation plans for Industrials and reports of control buying of Wheeling and Lake Erie. Insurance Stocks were buoyant on unconfirmed reports that Germany will settle $100,000,000 of war losses. The market closed strong. Government Bonds easy, Railroad Bonds firm. The day's sales totalled 1,330,000 shares.

Money on call closed firm at 3¾ p.c. bid and 4 p.c. asked. Business during the day ranged from 3¾ to 4 p.c., with the ruling rate 4 p.c. The last loan was made at [illegible] p.c. Sterling exchange steady. Silver unchanged at 67½.

CHICAGO, Friday.

WHEAT opened steady, 1⅛c. up to unchanged. Prices rose in the early dealings owing to small Australian and Argentine shipments, unfavourable crop reports from the South-West, decreasing stocks and active covering of shorts of May contracts, but a reaction set in on news of wet weather, favourable crops and lower outside markets. The market rallied again, however, owing to strength in Winnipeg, smaller interior receipts and covering of shorts, but subsequently realising due to disappointing outside demand caused recession. MEMOIRS OF MR. SWIFT MacNEILL

A BOOK OF GOOD STORIES.

Mr. J. G. Swift MacNeill's book of memories is one of the most entertaining and instructive volumes of the season. Mr. MacNeill hardly touches political controversies, and he makes no startling relations. He sets out solely to tell interesting things about interesting people, and his pages are like the pleasant conversation of one who has lived a stirring life, was always a keen and shrewd observer, and speaks with grace and wit—yet never passes those bounds of good breeding which are so seldom observed in our days. Good humour is the tone of the whole book. There is hardly a person, in all the many famous folk whom he describes, of whom Mr. MacNeill says even an acid word.

Born in 1849, Mr. MacNeill has shown in many a controversy that fighting mettle which, perhaps, he draws from his Hebridean ancestry. His father, the Rev. John Gordon Swift MacNeill, M.A., of Trinity College, Dublin, was the only son of Gordon MacNeill, a descendant of the last Laird of Barra. Gordon MacNeill was a friend of Grattan and Curran, and wrote several successful plays. His wife, Anna Maria Swift, was a grandniece of Dean Swift.

PROVOST MAHAFFY.

In 1866, at the age of seventeen, Mr. MacNeill matriculated in Trinity College, Dublin. Among the examiners were John Kelly Ingram and John Pentland Mahaffy, both of whom Mr. MacNeill aptly describes.

Mr. Mahaffy, even when I first knew him, was known as "The General," because of the wide range of the subjects which he studied: like Browne, he had taken all knowledge for his province. He touched nothing in which he did not excel. He has been accused of being a toady after the great and the highly-placed. In point of fact, they sought him much more eagerly than he ever sought them. . . . It is true that he did not suffer fools gladly; and, yielding at times to an astonishing quickness of apprehension and readiness of wit, he said things too good to be forgiven and too true to be forgiven. In connexion with a certain ungenerous high official who received a large salary intended to defray the expense of frequent entertainments—which, however, were not given—Mahaffy said: "His house was, no doubt, badly maintained and very dingy; but there were no mice in it."

Despite his nervous sensibilities and a highly-strung temperament, he was a man of great physical courage. On April 24th, 1916, the day of the outbreak of the insurrection, as I sought sanctuary in Trinity College, I saw Dr. Mahaffy in the Provost's garden, and he beckoned me to join him. The whole of Dublin was at the moment in uproar. The sound of rifle fire from St. Stephen's Green could be distinctly heard, the people in the streets were in a state of panic, and no one could tell to what part of the city the revolt would next spread. Yet Dr. Mahaffy conversed with me on the situation with perfect equitude of manner. He seemed as he walked up and down to be as calm and free from alarm as if nothing exceptional had been happening, and as if there was nothing to prevent his enjoying studious ease in an academic bower.

BUTT AND PARNELL.

Isaac Butt told Mr. MacNeill of a curious prophecy made to him by Daniel O'Connell. "Isaac, you are young and I am old. I will fail in winning back the Parliament, but you will do it when I shall have passed away."

In 1880 Mr. MacNeill was witness of an incident—apparently trivial—in which was the seed of history. He was attending County Sessions at Ennis. Parnell was lunching in Carmody's Hotel, when "The O'Gorman Mahon walked into the coffee room, accompanied by a slightly over-dressed man with a demeanour suggestive of the aggressive, whom he introduced to Mr. Parnell as Captain O'Shea." It was six years earlier that Mr. MacNeill met Parnell first.

In 1874 . . . the Council of the Home Rule League met in their rooms over a tobacconist's shop in Lower Sackville street, in order to discuss the suggestion, fervently supported by Mr. Butt, that it was in the interests of the party to contest, even unsuccessfully, at a coming by-election, the seat for the County Dublin. . . . At that moment Mr. Parnell, very elegantly, but not ostentatiously, dressed, came into the room, and declared that he was prepared not only to contest the constituency, but also to pay the expenses of the fight. The antecedents of Mr. Parnell, his quiet, unobtrusive manner, and his evident desire to help the cause at a considerable pecuniary sacrifice . . . appealed very strongly to Mr. A. M. Sullivan, Mr. Martin and the other leading members of the Council, and his offer was gratefully accepted.

Soon after this Mr. MacNeill was present at a great meeting in support of Parnell held at the Rotunda. There was great enthusiasm, but Parnell broke down—unable to deliver his speech. "It was generally considered then that the candidate could be nothing more than a figure-head in his party, a man who could never possibly achieve personal success."

Some years later Mr. MacNeill met Mr. Parnell's mother. "She conversed not with animation, but with a studied self-restraint. Parnell, of whom she spoke as 'my son Charles,' was then in the zenith of his power. I can never forget," says Mr. MacNeill, "her tone of expression as she said to me: 'Irish politics have in the past broken the heart of everyone who has entered seriously into them.'"

GLADSTONE AND RHODES.

In 1890 Mr. William Redmond joined with Mr. MacNeill and some other members to oppose, as a matter of the gravest constitutional importance, the cession of Heligoland to Germany. "It is," he writes, "one of the grim ironies of history that the man whose conduct in this matter was stigmatised by a British statesman as disloyal should have lost his life in the Great War, which would have been impossible if the opposition to the cession of Heligoland had been successful." Another matter on which Mr. MacNeill worked persistently in the House of Commons was the abolition of the flogging of boys in the Navy for petty offences. Lord Fisher had recorded that he witnessed this practice in operation, and that as a little boy he swooned at the sight. For years Mr. MacNeill was unsuccessful, although he was aided by many admirers; but when Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman became Prime Minister the flogging of boys was abolished.

When we consider what encyclopædic knowledge of Parliamentary and political history has been displayed at all times in Mr. MacNeill's learned writings, it is surprising to learn that once upon a time Mr. Gladstone caught him napping. Gladstone had stated in a speech that Burke had been opposed to the Parliamentary Union. Mr. MacNeill asked him how this could be, seeing that Burke died in 1797—a year before the Union was broached in Parliament. Gladstone took Mr. MacNeill into the Library of the House of Commons, mounted a ladder, and brought down a volume of reports, including a debate on the Union proposals dated January 30th, 1799. He turned to a speech by Dr. Laurence, who stated that Burke, during his last illness, had warned him against a Union as certain to be injurious alike to Britain and Ireland.

Mr. MacNeill's visit to South Africa, where he met Cecil Rhodes and received the offer of support for Home Rule if the Irish Party would agree to continued representation at Westminster, is famous. It is described in the book before us, and an interesting glimpse of Rhodes and Jameson is given. Rhodes, we read, agreed with Lecky that Olive Schreiner's "Story of an African Farm" was one of the greatest novels in the English language. Rhodes talked of Gordon and said: "I wish I had gone with him; I believe I would have saved him, and, if not, I would willingly have died with him." When Mr. MacNeill delivered Rhodes's offer to Parnell, the Nationalist leader accepted it and remarked: "What a pity that Rhodes is not in the Imperial Parliament. As it is, he will not live in history."

Among Mr. MacNeill's anecdotes of the Earl of Balfour is one which tells how he scored off Dr. Tanner, who, in the House, had complained that "Mr. Balfour had treated him in a most unladylike manner." Some boys had been arrested for selling copies of a suppressed newspaper in Cork. Dr. Tanner took to selling copies of the same paper, but was not molested by the police. In the House he asked whether Mr. Balfour was aware that, although he also had sold the prohibited papers, he had not been prosecuted.

"Yes, sir," answered Mr. Balfour; "I am aware of the hon. gentleman's activities, but the police were directed only to arrest persons of political importance."

We hope that Mr. MacNeill will give us a further volume of his entertaining memories, so pleasantly related.

A GIFTED PIANIST.

MISS O'BRIEN'S RECITAL.

The high standard of the Cork School of Music was illustrated last night, when Miss O'Brien gave her first recital in Dublin at the Engineers' Hall. This clever young pianist is a pupil of Frau T. Fleeschmann, as was also Miss Geraldine O'Sullivan, whose playing of the Chopin Preludes will be remembered. Miss O'Brien, in spite of obvious nervousness, gave a good account of her programme, but it was not until her concluding item—the Chopin "Ballade Op. 47," and its ensuing encore (also Chopin)—that her nicety of touch and strong rhythmic feeling were fully appreciated. At the same time the Schumann "Carnaval," with its kaleidoscopic changes, gave constant evidence that the pianist possessed both temperament and æsthetic sensibilities. The lighter movements—"Papillons," for instance—were exceptionally fine. Miss O'Brien's forte is the finish and phrasing of allegro passages. The evanescence and spontaneity of these was in constant evidence. The allegro of the Beethoven "Sonata, Op. 26," was splendid. But the finale to Schumann showed, as, indeed, did the whole of the "Carnaval," that Miss O'Brien has strong descriptive ability, and individual vision of her work. The collection of Irish airs and hornpipes airs by Hardebec, with which she opened the recital, was very apt in spirit, tempo and phrasing. The pianist's fine work spoke for itself in the common self-expression of Beethoven, Schumann and Chopin thanks to the fact that she never uses any polish except SCIENCE. There is nothing like it for all kinds of footwear. Not alone does it beautify, but it preserves, and its continued use renders leather quite waterproof. The rapidity and ease with which it gives a polish of the highest brilliance are a revelation to those who use it for the first time.

SHANNON SCHEME

SHE WALKS IN BEAUTY

Science Floor Polish is likewise a product of unapproached excellence. You do not know how really beautiful your House can look until you have given SCIENCE a trial.

THE DANCING GIRL MURDER.

VALET FOUND GUILTY, BUT INSANE.

Ernest Rhodes, the 19-year-old valet, was found guilty, but insane, at the Old Bailey, London, last night, of the murder of Grace Dinah Blackaller, the 16-year-old teacher of dancing, at West Kensington. He was ordered to be detained during His Majesty's pleasure.

For the defence, Dr. T. B. Hyslop, mental specialist, said that he formed the opinion that Rhodes was of a weak, degenerate, nervous type. The state of one of his eyes indicated brain disease, and he considered that Rhodes, at the time when he committed the act, was insane.

LONDON STOCKS IRREGULAR.

PRICES GENERALLY LOWER

The amount of business transacted in the London Stock Markets yesterday was still on a small scale owing to the near approach of the carry-over, while the tone was irregular. Investment Stocks commenced business at easier levels owing to underwriting being arranged for a large new London County Council Loan. Prices rallied slightly later, but still finished lower on the day. The forthcoming L.C.C. Loan is for £6,000,000 in 4½ p.c. Stock, redeemable 1945-85, the price of issue being 94½ p.c. Instalments are spread over the next four months, the last payment of 20 p.c. being due on September 9. A first interest payment will be made on October 5. British Funds were unsettled by the new Loan and the poor response to the New Zealand Loan, and prices were generally the turn easier. Among War Loans the Fives at 99⅞ and the 4½ p.c. at 95¼ were ⅛ and ¼ lower respectively. Conversion Loan 3½ p.c. was a dull market, the closing rate being ¼ down at 76. Funding Loan shed ½ to 87½. Indias and Local Loans were quiet and unaltered on the day. In Colonial Government Stocks Queensland 4 p.c. 1940-50 were a point lower.

RAILS EASIER.

A dull tone characterised Home Rails, and prices were easier where alteration was recorded. Midland Ord. dropped ½ to 86½, while North-Eastern Pref.-Ord. at 64 and the Def.-Ord. at 24 were ½ and ¼ lower respectively. Metropolitan Consols shed ¼ to 75½, but Districts were maintained. Southern issues were quiet and unchanged. Great Western Ord. repeated 92, but the Cons. Pref. shed a point to 98½. Underground issues were steady at previous levels.

A distinctly easier tone was noticeable in Colonial and Foreign Rails, Buenos Ayres Great Southern at 87, the Pacific at 80, and the Western at 73 all being ½ lower. Central Argentine also shed ½ to 74. Canadian Pacifics lost a point to 146, while among Grand Trunks the Pacific 4 p.c. Debs. at 35½, the 4 p.c. Guaranteed at 79, and the 4 p.c. Perpetual Debs., also at 79, were all a point lower on the day. Leopoldina at 29½ finished ½ below the overnight figure, while United Havana at 93 x.d. and Cordoba Central Ord. at 16 were also both ½ down.

TEA SHARES HEAVY.

Business remained on the small side in the Tea share market yesterday, while a heavy tone was manifest. Price changes were not numerous, but, while a few issues finished the day at slightly higher levels, the bulk of alterations were in the downward direction. Amalgamated Estates fell away rather heavily, the final quotation of 38⅛ being 1⅞ points below the previous closing rate. Assam Dooars lost ¼ and Consolidated Tea and Lands ⅛, while Brahmapootra at 30⅜ registered a decline of ⅛. Assam Frontier eased to 8⅛, or 1/16 down; Darjeeling Cons. at 55s. were 3s. 6d. lower. Majuli were a dull spot, and here a decrease of 3s. was marked to 75s. Darjeeling, on the other hand, finished showing an improvement of 9d. to 41s. 6d., while Anglo-Ceylon gained 4½d. on the day.

OIL SHARES GENERALLY QUIET.

The Oil share market was enlivened yesterday by a revival of active dealings in British Controlled shares, which a substantial advance was finally recorded. Other favourites, however, remained extremely quiet, and with few exceptions closed lower. A reason for the renewed strength of British Controlled was to be found in the announcement that Well 57, in the El Mene Field, which is located over two kilometres from the original key well of the present producing area, and which was stated in the progress report to have struck the upper producing sand at a depth of 745 feet, and to be producing about 90 barrels per day, has struck the main oil sand at a depth of 1,030 feet, the production being estimated at 900 barrels per day, flowing through a ⅜th inch choke. While in the foregoing the market had facts to go upon, the dealings were accompanied by wild rumours, one of which was to the effect that another offer had been made by American interests, but no proposals have been put forward by representatives authorised to act. We are authorised to state that no new offer has been made. It is understood that the Standard of California are prepared to enter into negotiations. There was also talk of buying for control, but it must be remembered that the voting rights are vested in the voting trustees. Both the Common and Pref. shares finished below the best, but showed appreciable gains on balance. Recognised leaders presented nothing of special importance, and generally had a dull appearance.

RUBBER SHARES FIRMER.

A much firmer tone prevailed in the Rubber share market yesterday, but the volume of business showed no noticeable expansion. Price changes were fairly numerous, and while a few issues closed lower on the day's business, the majority of alterations were in favour of holders. Anglo-Sumatra moved up to 70s. 3d., or 1s. 6d. better, while Batu Tiga and Bukit Rajah were 1s. 3d. and 10½d. higher respectively. Kuala Muda (now fully-paid) were quoted at 27s. 6d. Pilmoor gained a further 2s. 6d. to 27s., while Sialang finished 1s. 3d. higher at 43s. 9d. Rubber Estates of Johore put on 10½d., while Sapamalkande at 25s. 4½d. were 1s. better. Rubber Trust made headway, the final figure being 4½d. higher at 38s. 1½d. Serdang Central put on 1s. to 34s., while Tamiang finished 1s. 1½d. to the good at 34s. 3d. Malayalam finished 4½d. better, as did Kasintoe. Langkat Sumatra, on the other hand, were a dull market, the final level of 38s. 9d. being 2s. 6d. lower. Glenshiel dropped 9d., while P.P.K. Ceylon and Pataling were 1s. 7½d. and 1s. 1½d. lower respectively. The price of rubber rose to 2s. 7⅞d. per lb.

INDUSTRIALS.

Although there was no increase in the volume of business passing in the Miscellaneous and Industrial markets yesterday, and the opening was dull, a harder tendency developed towards the close, prices closing above the worst, and higher on the day in many instances. An outstanding instance of this was provided by Courtaulds, which, after suffering from further realisations in the earlier hours, met with support at the close and finished 6d. better at 93s. 9d., after being 92s. 6d. Celanese Prefs., however, eased to 12s. 6d. Textiles generally were uncertain, though Dyestuffs issues came into request, the Preferred hardening to 5s. 6d. and the Prefs. to 11s. 9d. Bleachers and Coats both shed 3d. to 71s. 6d. and 63s. respectively, as did Joshua Hoyles to 26s. 6d. Caterers displayed firmness, with Liptons still better at 21s. 3d. and J. Lyons recovering to 4⅛, the latter showing a rise of 1/16. Irregularity characterised Breweries. Guinness dropped 10 to 660; Watney Deferred 3 to 278½, and Allsopp Prefs. 1 to 93½, but gains of 1/16 took place in Barclay Perkins 10 p.c. Prefs. to 5 1/16, and in Courage to 2 5/16. Under the lead of Armstrongs, which found fresh support on the past year's report, and further advanced to 12s. 9d., a rise of 9d.; Iron, Coal and Steels displayed a harder tendency. Shipping securities kept up, with Court Lines a good spot at 29s. 6d. Wireless descriptions finished without quotable alteration. Apart from a fall of ⅛ in Midlands to 9⅛, Bank Shares remained quietly steady. Among Insurances, Londons and Northerns both fell ¼ to 11⅛ ex div. and 15⅛ ex div. respectively. Nobel Def. came on offer on the absence of a dividend, and closed 1s. down on balance at 9s.; while the Prefs. shed 3d. to 21s. 3d. The Ord. however, hardened to 25s. 4½d., the dividend coming up to market expectations. Elsewhere in the Miscellaneous trading section Swedish Match issues became weak, both classes of shares falling ⅜ to 11⅛ on reports of a statement at the meeting that no increase in dividends can be expected for some time. James Finlays opened a flat market at 70s. 9d., but recovered to 71s. 9d. before the close. Lever 7 p.c. Prefs. stiffened to 21s., and Dunlops to 14s. 7½d. Cements came into demand and moved up to 14s., while Francois Cementations put on 6d. to 8s. Columbia Graphophones improved to 45s. on the dividend and share bonus. With the exception of "Daily Mirrors," which lost 1/16 at 6 15/16, News Shares remained steady at previous levels. Tobaccos exhibited a sagging tendency in the absence of support. FINANCIAL PARAGRAPHS.

RAILWAY RATES AND HIGH FOOD PRICES.

The report of the British Royal Commission on Food Prices, just published, effectually disposes of the contention persisted in in some quarters that railway transport charges are responsible for the ruling high retail food prices. Dealing with this phase of the question, the report states:—"From evidence submitted to us on behalf of the railway companies, it appears that railway rates in general have increased by little more than 50 per cent., which is less than the average increase of food prices. Railway rates are, therefore, a factor which tends to reduce food prices below the 'normal' level of 60 to 80 per cent. above 1913 rather than to increase them."

WHISKEY TRADE AMALGAMATION.

At an extraordinary general meeting of the Distillers Company, Ltd., held at Edinburgh yesterday, the resolutions providing for the purchase of the Ordinary Shares of Buchanan-Dewar, Ltd., and John Walker and Sons, Ltd., and the increasing of the capital from £6,000,000 to £15,000,000 were unanimously confirmed. A further resolution was passed increasing the number of directors to twenty-one. Mr. William H. Ross, the managing director, said that it was hoped that the necessary share transfers would be executed and registered within the next two or three weeks. It would then be for Buchanan-Dewar and Walker to declare their dividends. It was hoped to embrace these in the annual report of the Distillers Company and take them into account in fixing the Distillers Company's final dividend.

CO-OPERATION IN TIPPERARY.

At the annual meeting of the Tipperary Co-operative Creamery, Ltd., at which Mr. P. L. Ryan, chairman, presided, it was reported that the total sales for 1924 amounted to £115,916. The number of gallons of milk received was 3,013,756 and the quantity of butter sold 603 tons. The price paid for milk averaged 7.79d. per gallon, and the net profit for the year was £2,434.

MIDLAND BANK APPOINTMENT.

The Midland Bank announces the retirement, in consequence of ill-health, of Mr. Harold Mare, joint general manager. Mr. R. W. Taylor, formerly assistant general manager, has been appointed joint general manager.

AMALGAMATED RUBBER ESTATES.

Holders of Rubber shares should derive considerable encouragement not only from the present strong statistical position, but also from the satisfactory reports which make their appearance day by day. For instance, we have now received the accounts of the Amalgamated Rubber Estates, Ltd., for the year 1924, and they make a particularly good showing, the profit, after making all allowances, coming out at over £54,000, or some £5,000 above the surplus recorded at the close of the previous period. When it is taken into account that a large portion of the 1924 crop averaged under 1s. per lb., it will be recognised that the result shown is highly creditable to the management. The dividend of 10 per cent. is repeated, and this rate, it may be recalled, was foreshadowed in the prospectus of the recent issue of shares. The company is in a good position to take advantage of the present favourable conditions, and shareholders have every reason to be optimistic as regards the prospects.

EAGLE OIL TRANSPORT CO.

The meeting will be held at Winchester House, London, E.C. 2, a Tuesday, 26th inst., at noon, for the purpose of receiving the directors' report and accounts of the company, to elect directors and auditors for the ensuing year, and to transact the ordinary business.

LONDON MINING MARKET DULL.

PRICE MOVEMENTS UNCHANGED.

The dulness which has overspread the Stock Exchange throughout the week showed no signs of lifting yesterday, and from the Gilt-edged department downward all sections wore a more or less depressed appearance. The Mining market, in particular, suffered rather severely, especially during the morning, when dealers were busy making arrangements for Monday's carry-over. In some cases it was evident that contangoes would be somewhat difficult to fix up, as the open account was larger than had been anticipated. With public orders on a very small scale, price movements were neither numerous nor important. In the Kaffir section there was a little evening-up of books over the week-end, and in the later hours a modest demand sprang up for some of the Platinum shares. The Cape, for instance, bought Transvaal Developments, but otherwise the demand from that quarter was very limited, while Paris was as undecided as ever, though some buying of certain bearer shares from that centre was in evidence towards the close. "T.C.L." Transvaal Developments, and Hendersons managed to add something to the overnight quotations; but Townships, Hendies Plats, and Oceans were unaltered. In the Rhodesian department, Chartered shook off their dulness, and a fair amount of bidding lifted the price smartly; but Tanks lost the turn. The members of the Bailey group were steady, but the throwing out of option stock resulted in a set-back in Selukwe, while profit-taking caused a break in Rhodesia and General Asbestos. A modest inquiry from Paris lifted the De Beers issues, but otherwise Diamonds were left pretty much to themselves, though West African Diamonds eased on realisation in view of the settlement. Although the price of tin declined 2s. 6d. to £243 5s. per ton, the share market was quite buoyant; indeed, the Eastern descriptions provided the brightest feature of the whole Mining market. Siamese led the way, a good demand, stimulated by further dividend anticipations, lifting the price substantially. Coppers were steady, with Tintos a better market, on home and Paris demand. Closing prices:—

STORE CATTLE SALES.

MESSRS. GANLY, SONS, AND CO.

A larger number of cattle was offered at Thursday's sale than on that day week. The class and quality were the best offered for some weeks, consisting entirely of exceptionally good animals, consigned direct from well-known feeders. The attendance of buyers was large, and a good trade was experienced throughout at prices practically similar to last week. The principal transactions were:—Sir George Murray's Hereford cross bullocks, £22; ditto coloured pollies, £20; T. K. Laidlaw's polly bullocks, £28, £27 10/-, and £25 10/-; Ernest Bellaney's polly bullocks, £23 10/- and £21 15/-; John Smith's polly bullocks, £24 and £23; H. P. Sheridan's A.A. polly bullocks, £24; Sir H. H. A. J. Walsh's polly and horned bullocks, £20 15/- and £20 10/-; Major E. M. Conolly's polly bullocks, £25 10/- and £21 10/-; J. J. O'Farrell's shorthorn heifers, £22, £20 5/-, and £18 5/- (top live weight quotation 62/-); T. Butler's shorthorn heifers, £22 15/-, £17 15/-, and £17 10/-; R. Boylan's A.A. polly bullocks, £22 5/-; R. Cahill's shorthorn heifers, £21 10/-; John Guinan's shorthorn heifers, £23; J. Dowse's polly bullocks, £23; J. Delaney's shorthorn bullocks, £25 5/-; B. Weld's shorthorn heifers, £20 and £16; ditto polly bullocks, £18 10/-, etc. Quotations for choice lots ran from 56/- to 60/- per cwt.; other sorts from 47/- to 52/-. With the exception of a few lots of the plainer sorts, everything was sold.

GAVIN LOW, LTD.

There were smaller numbers of cattle shown at above firm's sale on Thursday last, and many of the usual buyers were absent owing to the attractions of the R.D.S. Show. Trade must be reported quieter, although for top quality lots there was very little difference in prices per cwt., as the following quotations will show:—Horned bullocks and heifers, £22 10/- (55/-), £19 (56/-), £18 10/- (55/-), £18 (52/-), £18 (50/-), £17 5/- (50/-), £14 2/6 (56/-), £15 (50/-), £14 (48/-). Pollies, £22 15/- (56/-), £16 15/- (55/-), £12 5/- (61/-), A.A. and Hereford crosses, £20 (60/-), £19 15/- (60/-), £18 15/- (61/-), £16 15/- (59/-), £14 (58/-), £13 15/- (55/-), £9 15/- (60/-).

THE MONEY MARKET.

HIGHER TREASURY BILL RATES.

EASIER LOANS.

Tenders were received yesterday at the Bank of England for £30,000,000 in Treasury bills and Treasury bonds. No bonds were sold, and tenders for bills dated Monday to Friday of next week at £98 16s. 4d. will receive about 53 per cent., above in full. Saturday bills at £98 16s. 8d. and above receive allotment in full. The average rate per cent. would approximately be 4 11/16, against 4 11/16 last week. Conditions were more comfortable in Lombard street yesterday owing to the banks not calling in very heavily, while about £6,000,000 in dividend and interest payments, etc., was disbursed. Against this there was a call of £2,400,000 on the Birmingham Corporation Stock. Short loans during the early hours commanded 4¼ to 4½ p.c., but later on supplies became more plentiful, and balances were eventually offered down to 3 p.c. Weekly money was continued at 3¾ p.c. Discounts kept firm on the result of yesterday's Treasury bill allotments, fine three months' bank drafts again being quoted at 4 11/16-4¾ p.c. August Treasuries were offering in the market at 4⅝ p.c.

Gold remained at 84s. 11½d. Silver was unchanged for spot at 31 1/16d. per oz., but rose 1/16d. for forward delivery to 31⅛d.

The Bank of England announced the purchase of £1,610,000 of bar gold and the sale of £6,000 of gold bars.

A further moderate improvement was shown in the sterling dollar rate, which finished at the day's best figure of 4.85½, having thus closed higher for the fourth consecutive day. European currencies were mostly cheaper, the French and Belgian rates rising to 93.40 and 96.35 respectively, while the Italian rate rose to 118.80, or the highest since early in March. Norwegian and Danish kroner depreciated rather noticeably, and Spain, Rumania and Turkey moved in our favour. Exceptionally Polish zlotys were a little better. The Argentine dollar was firm at about 44 5/16, but the Brazilian milreis continued dull. Chilean pesos were rather better. No particular feature developed in the Eastern exchanges.

PRODUCE AND FOOD.

CATTLE.

BIRKENHEAD.—Supplies—686 cattle and 593 lambs. A larger supply of cattle to-day met a worse trade, with a decline in values all round. Bullocks and heifers made from 10d. to 11½d., cows 5½d. to 8½d., bulls 7d. to 9d. A steady demand for spring lambs at 1/9 to 1/10 per lb., sinking the offal; no demand for hoggets. In addition to the Irish cattle, there were 850 Canadian on sale.

GRAIN.

DUBLIN CORN.—This Exchange continues to move in a dull and uninteresting routine, with few samples of grain in evidence, and a limited attendance of buyers. Prices, therefore, are only nominal.

MARK LANE CORN.—There was a fair attendance of buyers at the week-end market and business made fair progress, prices being firmer for most cereals. WHEAT—No. 1 Northern Manitoba quoted 67/6, No. 2 ditto 66/6 ex ship, No. 1 Northern Duluth 64/6 ex ship, Rosafe 64lbs. 65/6, Australian 62/- ex ship, and choice white Karachi 65/6 landed per 498lbs. English ranges from 12/8 to 13/- per 112lbs. f.o.r. FLOUR firm; London standard straight run quoted 51/-, patents 53/- to 54/-. Town whites 51/- per sack, delivered in Metropolitan area. Of imported, Manitoba patents range from 49/- to 51/-, Minneapolis 49/-, Kansas patents 48/- to 49/-, Australian 44/6 per 280lbs. ex store. BARLEY quiet; Californian quoted 46/- to 60/-, Chilean Chevalier 61/- to 65/-, Australian 60/- to 64/- ex store per 448lbs.; No. 4 Canadian Western landed 37/6, Karachi ditto 37/6, Morocco 36/-, Canadian feed 35/- per 400lbs. MAIZE firmer; Plate quoted 44/6 ex ship, landed 45/-; Odessa 45/- landed, Bessarabian 45/6 ex ship to arrive, all per 480lbs. OATS firm; Plate ex ship quoted to arrive 26/9, landed 27/6; No. 2 Canadian Western ex ship 30/6, No. 2 Canadian feed ex ship 24/9, Chilean tawny 28/3, all per 320lbs. English quoted 10/- to 11/- per 112lbs. f.o.r. MILLERS' OFFALS firm to occasionally dearer; broad bran quoted 8/3 to 8/9, middlings 8/3, fine ditto 11/-, bags included ex mill; powdered oat husks 6/3, feed oatmeal 8/9, ground oats 13/3 per cwt. f.o.r. OATMEAL firmer; London-made flaked 19/9, rolled oats 18/9, medium, also fine cut 18/9, coarse, also medium pinhead 18/9, ordinary Scottish oatmeal 18/6, American ditto 18/6 per cwt.

LIVERPOOL CORN.—Higher quotations from America and the Argentine, with small shipments from latter for past week, caused forward deliveries of WHEAT here to improve liberally at the outset, but prices afterwards receded on a disappointing demand for actual wheat, fluctuated fairly, but finished at a decided advance on last night, late afternoon cables contributing to this end. C.i.f. parcels of No. 4 Manitoba May-June sold at 58/3, and No. 1 Northern Duluth May-June 60/1½ to 60/- per quarter. C.i.f. parcels MAIZE River Plate June-July sold at 37/- to 36/9 per quarter. Wheat on the spot slow of sale and prices irregular. Maize—Spot parcels quiet at about late rates of 9/8 to 9/8½ per cental for River Plate, and 9/8½ to 9/9 for Australian. FLOUR in moderate demand at late rates. Graded wheat futures opened 1d. to 2d. per cental dearer, then gave way and fluctuated to a fair extent, as buyers or sellers preponderated, the market closing steady at 1½d. to 1¾d. per cental over Thursday's final rates. Maize options closed steady at 1d. decline; May value 9/7 per cental.

DERBY—Quiet but firm market. Wheat firm at 60/-; oats 31/-.

WAKEFIELD—Thin attendance and light supplies of all kinds of English wheat was quoted at 12/9 to 13/- per cwt., for barley 10/- to 11/-, and oats 9/6 to 10/6.

DUBLIN BUTTER AND EGG.—Irish creams are now in plentiful supply, and demand is good for choicest quality at 1/6½ to 1/6¾ per lb., in some rare instances 1/7 for small quantities of super-grade description. Some fair Irish creams are to be had at 1/6 per lb.; only a limited trade passing for factory butter at 1/3 to 1/4 per lb. Foreign butter—viz., Danish and Colonial, is now practically finished here for the season. Supplies of EGGS continue more than equal to the demand, which is disappointing. Values remain easy—viz., best fresh case lots of hen eggs 11/6 to 12/6, heavily picked lots 13/6 to 14/-, good mediums 10/9 to 11/3, and country smalls 10/- to 10/-. Duck eggs are also plentiful, but sales are very slow, at from 11/- to 12/6, according to class.

DUBLIN POULTRY.—Chickens showing improved supply, and demand good for large fat ducklings. Other commodities in this market in about usual supply for the time of year. DUBLIN FISH.—There was a good sale for the small supply of fish on the market, namely, 35 packages salmon, 14 chests lobsters, 164 packages herrings, 164 mackerel, and a limited consignment from country hookers and wind trawlers, for which, prices ranged as follows:—Salmon, 1/9 to 2/- per lb.; large lobsters, 20/- to 30/-, seconds, 15/- to 17/6, and small, 5/- to 10/- per lot of 13/-; large soles, 25/- to 35/-; mediums, 15/- to 17/6, and slips, 4/- to 6/- per 9 pairs; large plaice, 6/- to 8/- per 4; mediums, 6/- to 8/- per 8; turbot, 6d. to 10/- each; brill, 6d. to 4/- and 8/- each. LONDON.—BUTTER—Business pursued a generally quiet course, and prices are weaker for Danish, due principally to a falling off in German demands. Increased supplies are now available in most countries, which causes buyers to adopt an attitude of reserve. Argentine descriptions are sparingly offered, as large quantities are being stored in shippers' account. Imports during last month have been very heavy, the chief feature being the large increase in Australian and New Zealand qualities as compared with the corresponding period last year. Liberal stocks of Colonial boxes are in cold store, presumably being held against autumn requirements, and, with large supplies expected from Siberia during the next two or three months, it would appear that fully sufficient butter will be available to hold in check any undue advance in prices. Total imports into the U.K. during April amount to 625,901 cwts., against 374,475 at same time last year. New Zealand finest salted quoted 168/- to 172/-, good to fine 160/- to 164/-, inferior 142/- to 150/-, unsalted 176/- to 180/-. Australian finest salted 160/- to 162/-, good to fine 150/- to 156/-, inferior 140/- to 143/-, unsalted 150/- to 168/-. Argentine finest 155/- to 164/-, good to fine 152/- to 154/-. Irish creamery salted 170/-, unsalted 176/- to 178/-, Danish 180/- to 182/-, Dutch 173/- to 180/-, Siberian 146/- to 150/-, and Esthonian 166/- ...

New Canadian is offered at 84/- to 86/- per cwt. c.i.f., and is becoming a factor in the general situation. Total imports for April 265,534 cwts., against 174,753 last year. BACON—Trade generally has shown increased activity, demand being stimulated by a spell of fine weather, and with lighter supplies prices have taken an upward turn. Gammons experienced a strong demand at higher rates. Total imports for April 651,329 cwts., of which more than half was from Denmark. The total was 562,890 cwts. same time last year. Officially Irish quotations were unaltered, but Danish, Dutch, Swedish and Canadian all 4/- per cwt. dearer. Irish 124/- to 133/-, Danish 113/- to 120/-, Swedish 103/- to 116/-, Dutch 105/- to 112/-, Canadian 90/- to 112/-, and American 89/- to 98/- per cwt. HAMS in better request and firmer. English as to weight quoted 165/- to 190/-, Canadian long 110/- to 112/-, short 106/- to 108/-; American long 102/- to 108/-, short 98/- to 106/-, and picnics 66/- to 70/- per cwt. LIVERPOOL.—Irish BACON firm and in better demand at late rates, while Danish moves fairly at higher price of 122/- to 124/- per cwt. owing to fears of a strike in Denmark. Canadian Wiltshires meet a fair demand, and prices are raised to 100/- to 106/- per cwt. The firmness in the market for American bacon here is still maintained, the further heavy drop in value of live hogs at Chicago being counteracted by fewer shipments from the Atlantic seaboard for past week. Buyers operate fairly, and prices of singed Wiltshires are 1/- dearer at 93/- to 96/- per cwt. HAMS firm and fairly active, at higher prices of 100/- to 107/- for long and 103/- to 109/- per cwt. short cut. LIVERPOOL REFINED LARD "FUTURES."—Chicago finished better than expected, but the market here ruled somewhat irregular during the early session, finishing 6d. per cwt. lower for near months, but partially 3d. dearer for distant. SCOUR IN CALVES

Sir—Permit me, as an agriculturist, to make a few remarks concerning the awful malady called "Scour," so prevalent among cattle, and especially young calves, whereby the farmers of Ireland lose so much of them every year. As I peruse your veterinary columns, scarcely a week passes without some query on the disease. Well, last week a nom-de-plume under the title of "A Louth Man" wishes to hear of a cure for Scour in a six-weeks-old calf. He seems to think that cure cannot be effected. But I can say with emphasis that such a medicine has been invented and patented by Mr. Jones, Pharmaceutical Chemist, Doneraile, Co. Cork, AS WILL CURE ANY DESCRIPTION OF SCOUR WHETHER OF LONG OR SHORT STANDING IN ANY CLASS OF ANIMAL, EVEN CALVES FROM THREE DAYS OLD. I, for one, can testify as to its INFALLIBILITY, after many experiences, and found after almost EVERY OTHER MEDICINE FAILED THAT JONES'S SPECIFIC DID ITS WORK WITH RAPIDITY IN THE WORST CASES OF SCOUR.

And now I feel it my duty to lay before the farmers of Ireland the means whereby they may SAVE ANNUALLY HUNDREDS OF POUNDS which otherwise would go for naught. I can understand how it is with a great many people—they do not rely upon advertisements—they look upon them as what they would term catch-pennies; but in this case it is quite the reverse, as the QUALITIES OF THIS WONDERFUL MEDICINE CANNOT BE TOO HIGHLY SET FORTH TO THE CATTLE-REARING COMMUNITY OF THIS COUNTRY.

Should any doubt exist in the minds of the people as to its good, I will, with much pleasure, answer any letter addressed to me on the subject, and would account it only a trifle when compared with the gains it has brought me. Then let each afflicted breeder of cattle keep a PACKET OF THIS MARVELLOUS MEDICINE in his house, and he NEED NOT DREAD THE RAVAGES OF SCOUR AMONG HIS CATTLE, and will find at the year end that he will have his pastures well stocked, and he will have something to meet his demands and maintain his household instead of having their bones mouldering in the clay and their hides off to the tanyard.

Well, I earnestly hope that my brother Louth man will profit by these few remarks, as also each and every farmer and reader of your valued and much-esteemed paper.

And now, dear Editor, I will thank you to insert this letter for the good of all your readers.—I am, yours faithfully,

JOHN CHILDS.

This remarkable letter appeared in a leading Dublin paper, with the following comment:—

We have much pleasure in thanking Mr. Childs for the information, and congratulate the patentee of this wonderful medicine on the amount of genius which he displayed in its discovery.—Editor.

YESTERDAY'S CASES IN THE COURTS.

A CURRAGH TENANCY.

WAR DEPARTMENT'S ACTION.

(BEFORE MR. JUSTICE MEREDITH.)

The case of the Secretary of State for War against Joseph Whelan was decided. The plaintiff sought specific performance of an agreement, dated August 3rd, 1914, whereby he acquired 28 acres of land at the Curragh, Co. Kildare, from the defendant, subject to a rent of £160 a year. The agreement, in writing, provided that, on returning possession of the land to the defendant, the War Department should restore the lands to their original condition if they suffered damage. The lands were used for the purpose of stabling horses during the war, and new roads were made through them. The agreement contained an alternative provision to the effect that the War Department should have the option—instead of restoring the lands to their original condition—of purchasing them from Mr. Whelan for £1,025. The War Department exercised this option, and by notice in writing in 1920 signified their intention to purchase the lands. In April, 1920, the defendant was put into possession as caretaker. In October, 1920, the caretaker's agreement was determined, but the defendant remained in possession since that date. The rent mentioned in the agreement was paid up to the 3rd of August, 1919. Since that date the War Department made no payment either of rent or rates.

It appeared that the action was brought in 1921 for specific performance of the agreement for sale. Owing to the change of Government no steps were taken from 1921 until 1924, when the defendant moved to dismiss the action for want of prosecution. The Free State Minister for Defence was then added as a party, and, the parties having failed to arrive at a settlement, a letter was written in March, 1924, by the defendant, urging that the case should be set down for trial. There was no dispute as to the performance of the contract, and all the parties were agreed that the contract for specific performance should be completed. The question in dispute was the amount of the rent which ought to be paid by the War Department under the agreement, having regard to the occupation of the lands by Mr. Whelan since October, 1920.

Mr. Justice Meredith fixed the rent to be paid by the War Department at £666 13s. 4d., and on payment of that sum and the £1,025, the purchase price agreed on, the defendant should convey the lands to the Secretary of State for War.

Counsel—Mr. T. S. McCann, K.C.; Mr. Costello, K.C., and Mr. Bewley (instructed by the State Solicitor) for the War Department; Mr. Phelps, K.C.; Mr. M. Maguire, K.C., and Mr. Connolly (instructed by Messrs. Dobbyn and McCoy) for the defendant.

SHIPBROKERS' ACTION.

DISPUTED BASIS OF COMMISSION.

(BEFORE MR. JUSTICE HANNA.)

The case of Molloy, Carroll and Co., of 14 D'Olier street, Dublin, against the Atlas Shipping Co., Ltd., of Great Tower street, London, was listed on notice. The plaintiffs claim £556 11s., alleged to be payable by the defendants for money paid by the plaintiffs for the defendants, for money lent, and for work and labour done by the plaintiffs for the defendants.

Mr. Sainsbury, who was, with Mr. Denning, K.C., and Mr. Phelps, K.C. (instructed by Messrs. G. Byrne and Co.), for the defendants, said that the matter had been adjourned on the application of the plaintiffs, on whose behalf a motion was opposed, for the examination on commission of a necessary witness in England, who was unwell and unable to attend. The opposition was on the ground that the application was not bona fide. The action was to recover charges claimed by the plaintiffs, acting as shipbrokers, and was the outcome of a strike in Dublin in June, July and August last. The plaintiffs based their claim in respect of each vessel, and commission of 1½ per cent. on the bulk rates of the steamer. The defendants, in their defence, traversed that. They said that there was a contract, but that the percentage was 1½ per cent. based on the freights collected in Dublin.

It was agreed between the parties to have the action tried by a judge without a jury on the 12th of next month.

Mr. Dockrell, K.C., and Mr. Tobias (instructed by Messrs. Keating and Keating) appeared for the plaintiffs.

RUNNING DOWN ACTION.

SETTLEMENT IN DUBLIN CASE.

In the case of Alfred Cox, a blacksmith, of 8 South Brown street, South Circular road, Dublin, against Messrs. Browne and Nolan, Dublin, Mr. James Henry (instructed by Messrs. O'Neill and Collins) applied on behalf of the defendants to have a consent to a settlement of the action received and made a rule of Court. Counsel said that this was a claim for damages in a running down action, and the consent provided for the payment of £190 and costs by the defendants to the plaintiff.

Mr. Justice Hanna received the consent, which was made a rule of Court.

JUDGE CONGRATULATES COUNSEL.

Mr. Justice Hanna, in the Law Courts, Dublin Castle, yesterday, congratulated Mr. James Geoghegan, K.C., on being called to the Inner Bar, a position, he said, where Mr. Geoghegan might have been some time ago.

Mr. Geoghegan thanked Mr. Justice Hanna for what he had said.

RECOVERED FROM THE LIFFEY.

NO EVIDENCE OF DROWNING.

Because of the decomposition of the body being so far advanced a Coroner's jury which yesterday investigated the death of Henry Daly (40), an ex-British soldier, whose decapitated body was recovered from the Liffey at the South Wall, Dublin, on Wednesday, was unable to say that the cause of death was drowning. Daly lived at 10 North Summer street, Dublin, and had not been seen since the 5th April.

Dr. Oswald J. Murphy, who made a post-mortem examination of the remains, said that it was impossible to come to any conclusion as to the cause of death. There was no watery fluid in the lungs, and the condition of the skin showed no indication that the body entered the water alive.

The Coroner (Dr. Louis A. Byrne) said that the head had not been found. There was no evidence to show that the man was drowned, but that might have been due to the fact that the body was a long time in the water and was badly mutilated by the port dredger which picked it up.

DUBLIN DISTRICT COURT.

FOX FUR "RAG."

WOMAN'S EXPERIENCE IN A THEATRE.

(BEFORE MR. CUSSEN.)

When Charles Grafton Hall-Dare, whose address was given as Club House Hotel, Kildare, appeared in the dock, charged with the larceny of a fox fur, value for six guineas, Miss Dunne, 4 North Great George's street, Dublin, was called, and said that she was at the second "house" at the Theatre Royal on the previous night when the defendant snatched the fur which she wore around her neck.

Mr. E. H. Burne, solicitor, said that the defendant was a very respectable young man, but was in a "comfortable condition" on the night in question. As his worship was aware, there had been correspondence in the newspapers on the subject of fox-killing for furs, and the defendant's action was intended as a "rag." He had no intention of stealing the fur, but took it to bring it up to the dress circle and there flaunt it. The defendant apologised for his action.

Mr. Cussen said that it was a shocking thing that a respectable Dublin lady should be treated like this.

The defendant, asked who he was, said that his father was a landowner in the Co. Wexford.

Mr. Cussen said that he had seriously considered sending him to Mountjoy. He would, however, let him off with a fine of £1, and order him to pay £1 for damage caused to the fur.

By agreement with Mr. Burne during the hearing, the charge was reduced to one of "disorderly conduct."

AFTER A "WAKE."

Timothy Carey was fined £4 for breaches of the licensing laws on his premises, 8 and 9 Sarah place, Islandbridge.

Guard Murray (123 A) gave evidence that, at 2.25 a.m. on the 11th inst., on looking through the letter-box of the defendant's premises, he saw five men drinking in the "select bar." He knocked, and the lights were turned out. He was not admitted, and he reported the matter to Sergeant Naughton.

The sergeant said that he was allowed to enter the premises, and was told that there were no men there, but that a wake had taken place in the neighbourhood, and that the persons who were upstairs had come from it, and had "just had a drink."

The proprietor said that his foreman had no permission to open at that hour, and did not live on the premises.

SEAMAN CHARGED.

On the charge of illegal possession of a bicycle, value for about £10, a week's remand was granted against William Gibson Richardson, Bitterlees, Silloth, Cumberland, quartermaster of the ss. Teviot, trading between Dublin and Silloth.

Detective Durkan gave evidence of searching the Teviot, which was berthed at the North Wall, for stolen property. In the defendant's quarters he found a new Rudge-Whitworth bicycle, and the defendant said that he bought it from a stranger for £2.

BELFAST CHEMIST'S AFFAIRS.

JUDGE'S SHARP COMMENT.

In the Northern Bankruptcy Court, Belfast, yesterday Mr. Justice Wilson had before him the affairs of Matthew M'Donald, a bankrupt, who carried on business as a chemist in Donegall street, Belfast.

Mr. E. Warnock (instructed by Messrs. S. Ross and Co.), for the assignees, examined Mr. M'Donald, who stated that he was adjudicated on his own petition, but had not called any meeting of his creditors. About six months ago he first realised that he was insolvent. He continued to trade with the help of friends.

Mr. Warnock—You have depended very largely on your friends for some considerable time?—Yes.

Mr. M'Donald, in reply to further questions, said that in his schedule he had given details of cash lent to him by 22 people, to a total of £1,090. He had expected to receive a larger amount of compensation for the loss of his wine licence. He had anticipated getting £500.

Mr. Warnock—You have been getting credit on the strength of that for some considerable time?—Yes.

As a matter of fact, long before the award was given, you had mortgaged it to someone else? It was mortgaged to Councillor Martin Hopkins about this time last year.

Witness said that he had received £233 from the Compensation Tribunal in January last. Portion of it went to the bank and some to Councillor Hopkins, but he had no records of what he owed to Councillor Hopkins.

Mr. Warnock mentioned that Councillor Hopkins was a creditor for £180, and that the accountants had estimated the assets available for realisation at £416 and the total liabilities at £3,491.

Counsel questioned the witness about an assistant named Miss Gallagher, to whom he was indebted to the extent of £240. Witness said that since business became bad he had only paid her small sums, which the girl had set out in a pass book. These were not entered in his books.

His Lordship—It is a scandalous thing for you to carry on business and not keep any books at all, showing the money you got and what money you spent in relation to the business.

The witness replied that he kept an order book, a day book, and a sales ledger.

His Lordship—You will have to make up correctly what the state of the business is, and give all information and documents you have to the official assignee, or I will have to deal with you.

Mr. P. L. M'Corry (instructed by Mr. T. E. Alexander) appeared for the bankrupt.

RATHGAR METHODIST CHURCH.

The formal dedication of the Rathgar Methodist Church, which has been enlarged at a cost of £8,500, will take place this afternoon. During the Service Major D. G. Shillington, M.P., will unveil the war memorial and tablet. At the re-opening Services to-morrow the preacher will be the Rev. Henry Howard (of Australia). An announcement appears in our advertisement columns on page 6.

CLONLIFFE METHODIST CHURCH.

The Rev. J. C. Robertson, Principal of Edgehill Theological Hall, Belfast, will be the special preacher at the Sunday School anniversary services in Clonliffe Methodist Church at both Services to-morrow. A children's choir will sing anthems. The 4th City of Dublin Company of Girl Guides and the 11th City of Dublin Troop of Boy Scouts will parade at the Evening Service. A collection will be made for the Sunday School funds.

MADAME ROCK'S MATINEE.

Dancing is impressed by the larger personality called nationality, so that the dance of a country becomes a revelation of the temperament and characteristics of its people. A development of dancing on these lines is about to be introduced by Miss Nancy Rock, Dublin. The new idea is "The Phase Line," which is the completion of the recital of a saga, by a background of figures in pose and rhythmic movement. "The Phase Line" will appear in "The Courtship of Nuala," which will be given by the pupils of Madame and the Misses Rock at their matinee on May 23. Miss Elizabeth Young will be the Seanchuidhe of the saga. The younger pupils will perform "A Snow Carnival," "All in a Garden Fayre," and "A Mexican Fiesta."
